Volume IV

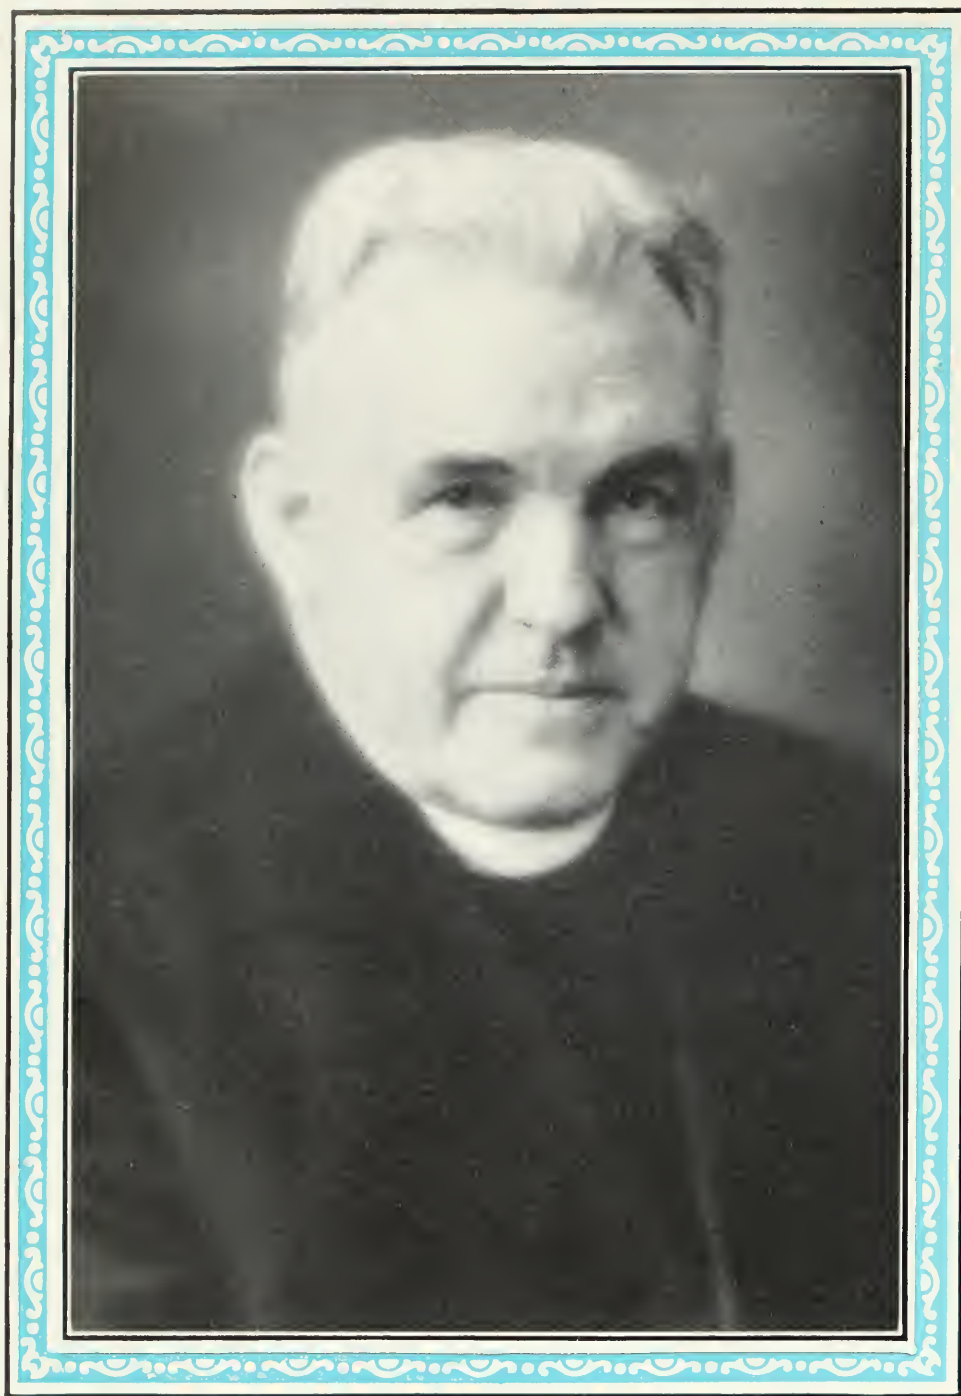

Foreword

WHEN future years have lowered their mists over the present, and venerable age has cast today into a dim shadow making the reminiscences of school days seem sweeter, may the pages of the Blue Jay of 1927 serve to recall fond memories of days spent at Creighton, our Alma Mater.

Dedication

*I*N grateful appreciation of twenty-six years of service at Creighton University we are happy to dedicate this the fourth volume of the Blue Jay to

Rev. William P. Whalen, S. J.

Regent of the Medical School, Dental School, and the College of Pharmacy.

Father Whalen was born March 5, 1867, at Ashton in Wakefield, Lancashire, England. His undergraduate work was completed at St. Ignatius College, Chicago. Father Whalen first came to Creighton in 1896 and served for three years as Professor of Classics and Dramatics. After spending five years at St. Louis U., he returned to Creighton in 1904 and since then has served at various times as Regent of the professional schools. Father Whalen was also Director of the Summer School for nine years, and was a member of the original faculties of Dentistry and Pharmacy.

Rev. William Joseph Grace, S. J.

President of the University

Father Grace was born in St. Louis, Missouri, February 23, 1882. He received his Bachelor and Master Degrees from Saint Louis University and entered the Jesuit order there. He came to Creighton in July, 1920, as Dean of the College of Arts and Professor of Education. In October, 1926, Father Grace was inaugurated President of Creighton University to succeed Father McCormick.

Our University

*W*E who have been long at Creighton like to think of the University as an institution whose life has united to an unusual degree the ideals of service and scholarship. Satisfaction arises in the sight of service which has been given eagerly and sympathetically. Scholarship which has been constituted with the far-sighted aims of truth, knowledge, and loyalty without losing any of its helpfulness as an aid in meeting the practical needs of life. Strength and inspiration comes to the University in the firm conviction that those who have constituted its membership and are now in the field of life's endeavor are faithfully upholding and advancing the ideals of their country and Alma Mater.

The Views

THE views presented in this section are what we can justly claim to be the acme of perfection in night photography. They were made possible thru the work of a true artist and the medium of the camera's lens and artificial light. Appreciation of their value, despite the comparative fewness in number, will come with the realization of the difficulties and conditions under which they were taken. It has been our wish to present something new in campus views, yet always remembering that only beautiful pictures serve as the most pleasing medium to refresh the memory. We think that we have accomplished our end and hope that the views will meet with the satisfaction and pleasure of the student body.

ADMINISTRATION

The office of the Bursar occupies a prominent place in the Administration Building. Here the registering students ruin their bank accounts in procuring books and paying fees. Miss M. Keyser renders very efficient service as the University Bursar, and is ably assisted by an untiring staff of helpers.

ADMINISTRATION

REVEREND JOSEPH C. FLYNN, S. J.

Dean of The Creighton College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

ARTS

The College of Arts and Sciences

The Arts College, the mother of the University, was established in 1876 thru a bequest made by Mary Lucretia Creighton. The present building was erected and enlarged upon until it now contains the Administration offices, Arts College and Jesuit faculty home. The subsequent growth of the University and the enlargement of its endowment are due mainly to the benefactions of Count John A. Creighton and his wife Sarah Emily Creighton.

REV., ALFRED J. KAUFMANN, S. J.

Professor of History.

IN MEMORIAM

The Blue Jay of 1927 respectfully dedicates
this page

In Memoriam

to REVEREND FATHER RIGGE, S. J., a member of Creighton University's original faculty of 1878, who died on March 31, 1927.

ARTS AND SCIENCES

The Auditorium

The Auditorium is one of the most important centers of student activity on the campus. The student dramatic offerings, debates, oratorical contests and assembly programs are presented here for the pleasure of the students.

REV. F. X. REILLY, S. J.
Professor of English.

St. Johns Hall

Saint Johns Hall, the only University hall on the campus, provides the real college-life atmosphere to many of the entering Freshmen. The close association of the University and able direction of Father Mullaney engenders a real Creighton spirit among its members.

REV. EUGENE P. MULLANEY, S. J.

Director of Saint Johns Hall

ARTS AND SCIENCES

The Library

The University Library, located in the Arts College, contains over 50,000 volumes besides the Federal, State and current publications. The closed shelf system is used and the reading room is provided with a wonderfully complete card index. The librarians are to be congratulated for the efficiency and service rendered to the student body.

MISS ALBERTA L. BROWN, A. B.

University Librarian

ARTS AND SCIENCES

E. A. WEINKE, Ph. D.

J. J. DONOVAN, A. M.

The Department of Education is one of the fastest growing divisions of the Arts College. Under the able direction of Professor Donovan and Dr. Weinke the department has expanded to include instruction in all modern phases of pedagogy.

Courses in Psychology, Management, Administration and Methods have developed to a high degree. Institutional certificates, representing twenty semester hours, are awarded to undergraduates after successfully completing the course.

Extension and graduate courses are also offered leading to Masters degrees to the teachers of Omaha public schools.

The College of Commerce and Finance

The College of Commerce and Finance, the youngest of the University group, meets the popular demand for a complete school of business. It is growing rapidly and bids to become one of the most active of the school units.

COMMERCE AND FINANCE

PUBLICITY DEPARTMENT OFFICE.

Under the direction of James Shanahan the publicity department informs the general public of the activities of Creighton University. Jim is to be congratulated for being a tireless worker, a promoter of "pep", and a willing, able helper in all activities of the students. He also holds the Professorship of Journalism in the Commerce College, and edits the new Alumnus publication.

The Dental School

The Creighton Dental School is one of the highest ranking schools of its kind in the United States, enjoying a Class "A" rating for many years. The staff and equipment has reached a high degree of perfection, and the schools graduates are thoroughly trained Doctors of Dental Surgery.

CHARLES A. WOODBURY, D. D. S.
Professor of Gold Foil Manipulation.

DENTISTRY

The Dental laboratories are completely and fully equipped so as to provide the highest possible degree of perfection in the basic training of our future Dentists. The courses offered precede the practical work in the clinic.

CHARLES F. CROWLEY, A. M., PH. C., M. D., PH. D.
Professor of Chemistry and Metallurgy.

DENTISTRY

The Dental Clinic provides the actual practice in craftsmanship and manipulation for the embryo doctors. Actual costs of materials alone is charged and hundreds of patients are treated weekly. The work is necessarily excellent and is supervised by a trained staff of Doctors.

EDWARD H. BRUENING, D. D. S.
Professor of Dental Anatomy.

THE SCHOOL OF LAW.

The School of Law was opened in 1904 and moved in to the present new building in 1921. This school ranks Class "A" and is recognized as a member of the American Bar Association. A complete course is prepared to give the student a legal mind by practical and theoretical study.

CHARLES F. BONGARDT. A. M., LL. M.

Professor of Law.

L A W

The practical side of the Law course is worked out in the Moot Court room. All forms are pleaded by the students, with the seniors as attorneys, juniors as witnesses, and freshmen as jurors. Professor Burke acts as judge of the Court.

DONALD J. BURKE, LL. B.
Professor of Law.

L A W

The Law library is a most complete one containing about 26,000 volumes. Session laws, statutes, and reports of the States, England, and Canada. There is also an extensive collection of American and English Periodicals.

MEDICINE

The Creighton Medical School is one of the few recognized Class "A" schools of the American Medical Association. Located in a position adapted to clinical work over 25,000 patients receive free treatment annually. Scholastically it is the pride of the University and its requirements and standards are of a very high degree.

V. E. LEVINE, A. N., PH. D.
Professor of Bio-Chemistry.

MEDICINE

The Clinic offers a varied and great amount of cases for the students to put theory into practice. In this work they are guided by the specialists of the staff.

DR. JAMES McDONALD, B. S., M. D.
Professor of Physiology.

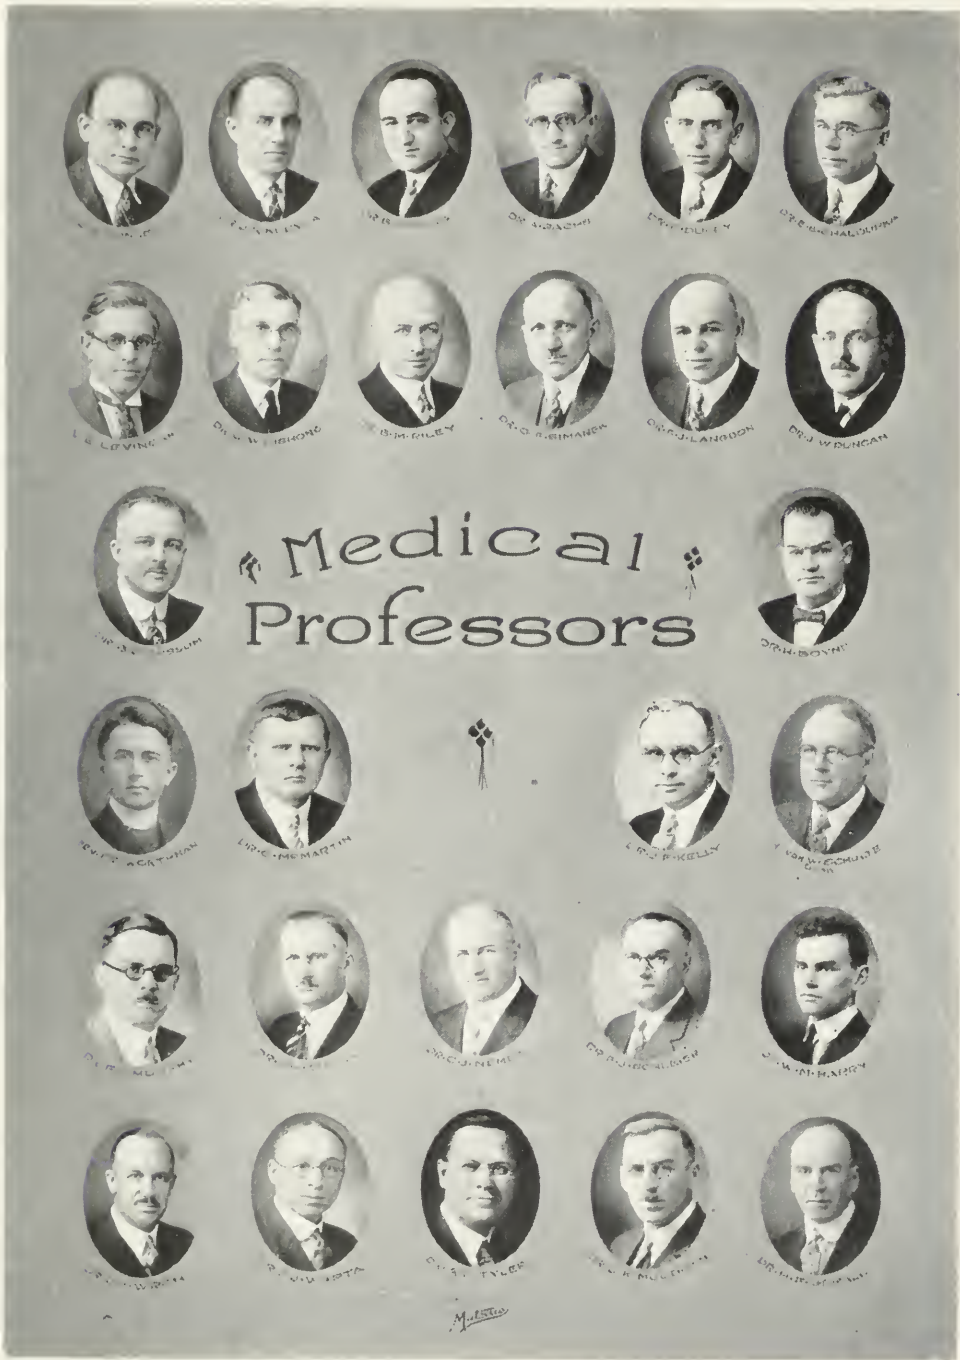

MEDICINE

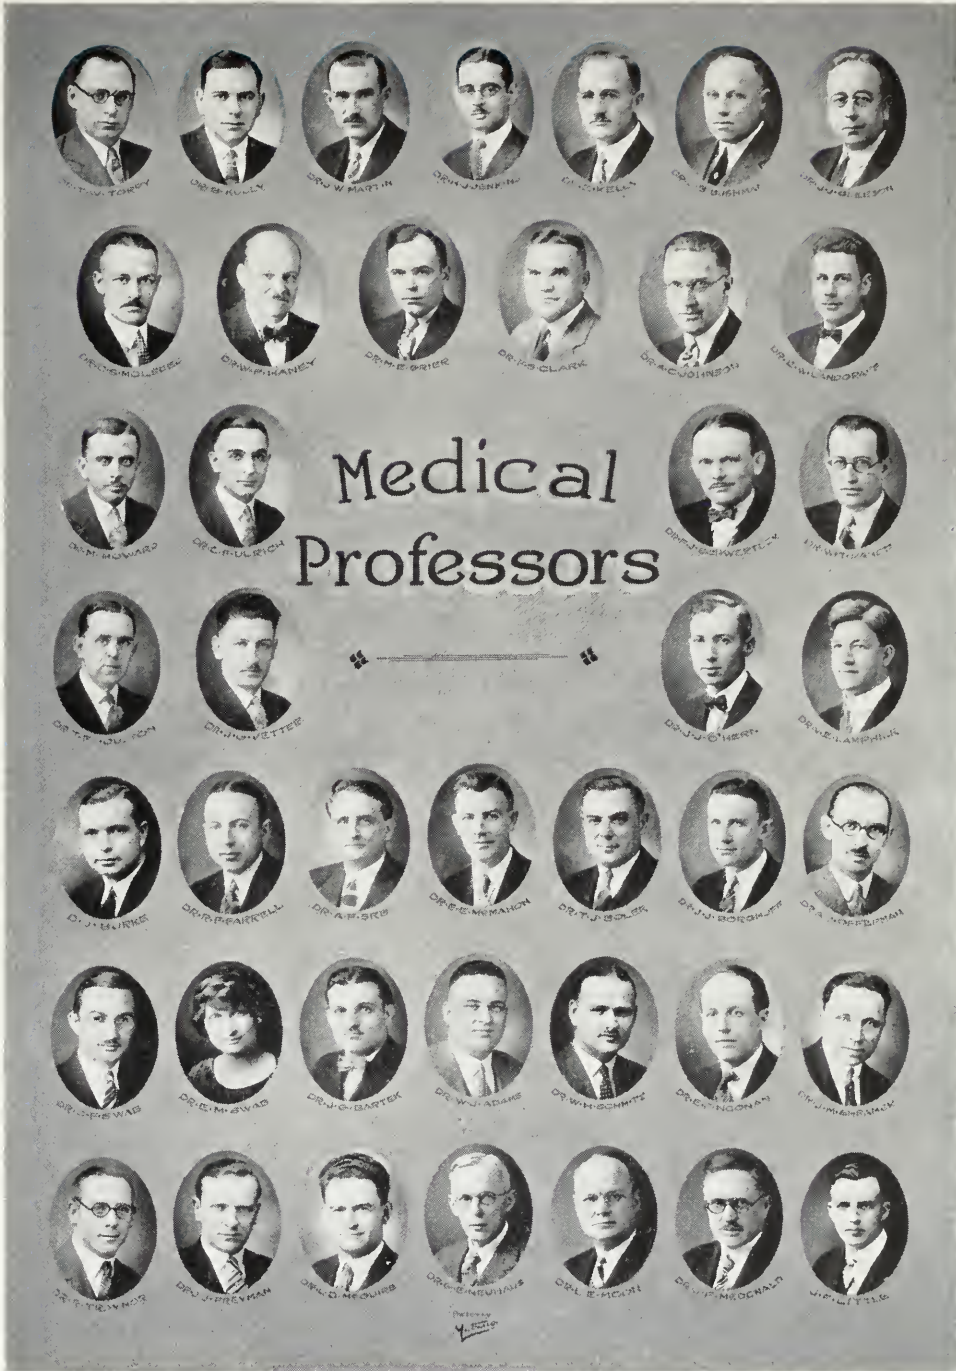

The laboratories of the Medical School serve their purpose to provide a strict and complete fundamental training. The staff is composed of the best medical professors in this part of the country, and are nationally recognized for their abilities.

DR. MAURICE HOWARD, A. B., M. D.
Professor of Medicine.

PHARMACY

HOWARD C. NEWTON, PH. G.
Dean of the College of Pharmacy.

PHARMACY

College of Pharmacy

The Creighton College of Pharmacy is rapidly advancing to the top of its class. It now occupies an enviable position among the best colleges of pharmacy, being rated Class "A" by the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy. Hence, it is attracting discriminating students from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

FREDERICK E. MARSH, PH. D.
Professor of Bacteriology.

PHARMACY

The Pharmacy Dispensary, in close connection with the medical school dispensary, permits the potential purveyors of pharmaceuticals to obtain a great deal of practical work. Hence, they have a decided advantage in having applied their theoretical assimilations.

The Student Life Section

*I*N this section an attempt has been made to present a graphic portrayal of the school year in pictures with a small flash of past Creighton men. The outstanding activities of student life have been treated as adequately as the conditions permitted. It is our hope that this section will meet with the favor of the students and that it will grow and become better with each issue of the Blue Jay. The Staff thanks everyone for the co-operation that made it possible, and especially the photographers, Louis Bostwick and Jim Shanahan.

The Student Board of Governors of 1926-1927 functioned with remarkable efficiency and harmony in furthering the interests of the student body throughout the past year. The numerous student dances, the Junior-Senior Prom, the publications and the management of the Union club-rooms are worthy examples of their administrative ability. We take this opportunity, in behalf of the students, to thank them for their meritorious services.

DON J. MURPHY
President

Don J. Murphy, as President of the Board of Governors, was untiring in his efforts for the betterment of student spirit. He indeed deserves tribute worthy of a true leader of men.

ACTIVITIES

Student Union Club Room

With a high-powered radio receiving set, an ortho-phonic victrola, and many other modern luxuries, the Union club-rooms provide a delightful lounging place for leisure hours. More than six hundred students visit the club rooms daily to make use of the many facilities provided for them. Little difficulty will be had to find a party playing bridge, pitch, pinochle, or chess, on any afternoon or evening of the school year.

Father Herbers is, without doubt, largely responsible for the popularity of the present regime of the Board of Governors, of which he was faculty representative. His stabilizing influence and versatile experience justifies his campus title, "Creighton University's Prince of Pep."

REV. JOSEPH A. HERBERS, S. J.

ACTIVITIES

ROBERT MCGINIS

JOHN O'DONNELL

Bob McGinis, the Union manager, was the genius who successfully engineered the Union dances, the Junior-Senior Prom, and many other student activities, that he is correctly designated the "efficiency man" of the Union. He was ably assisted in his various duties by John O'Donnell, who proved himself an invaluable assistant in the management of the Union bowling alleys, the candy store and the club rooms. Tom Mullin, "Cy" Farr, and Larry Lilly also aided McGinis in making the club rooms the most popular place on the campus.

ACTIVITIES

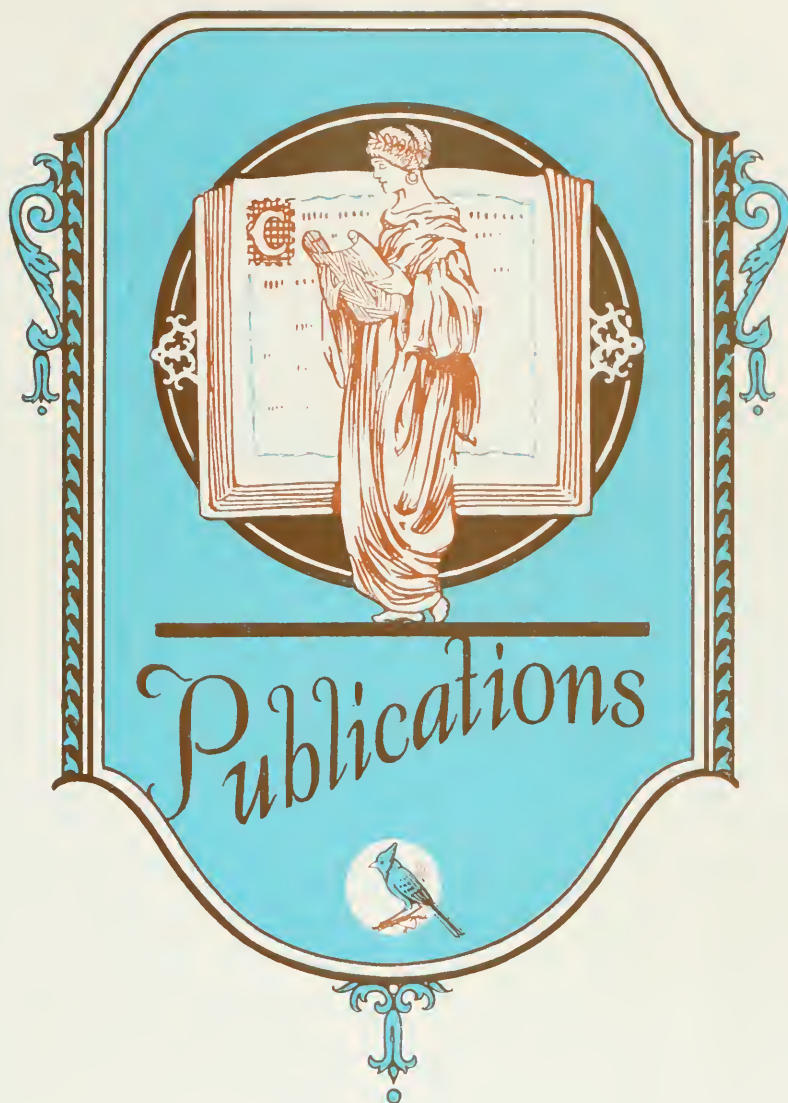

The new bowling alleys, the pool and billiard tables were constantly in use by our potential world champions. Several bowling and billiard tournaments were conducted during the course of the year, the winners receiving medals for their proficiency in these indoor sports. The Candy Cage receives a liberal patronage and is especially popular during the noon hour, when the customers may obtain light luncheons at an extremely low cost. Just yell, "Gimmie a Hot-Dawg, Larry!"

ACTIVITIES

The Students Union erected a new trophy case in the club rooms in order to perpetuate the achievements of Creighton men in the field of athletics. The case is very beautifully arranged with Basketball, Football, Track and various other trophies of the minor sports. The Athletic Department willingly co-operated with the Union and furnished records of past University teams. It is the hope of all that large additions will be made in the future to provide for the great expansion of athletics in Creighton.

ACTIVITIES

J. L. BEAN

E. L. POWDERLY

Edwin L. Powderly, Editor in chief of the Blue Jay hails from Elkton, South Dakota, and is a member of the Senior Arts class.

James L. Bean is the Business Manager of the Blue Jay and former Editor in 1926. He comes from Pocatello, Idaho, and is a member of the Senior Law and Gamma Eta Gamma fraternity.

The assisting staff of Koehn, Keenan and Merrick were largely instrumental in the production of the Blue Jay. George Koehn handled the advertising, Wallace Keenan the Sport department with the assistance of Harry Trautman, and Donald Merrick served as Managing Editor.

ACTIVITIES

In the presentation of the 1927 Blue Jay to the student body the staff hopes that it will meet with the entire satisfaction of all. We have done our best to produce a book that you will be proud of, and one that we hope is superior to all others. The staff expresses its sincere thanks to the students for their co-operation and aid in making the 1927 Blue Jay possible.

ACTIVITIES

R. McNAMARA

P. J. CASH

R. G. PHIPPS

One of the biggest reasons for the Creightonian's success was Paul Cash, Junior Law student, of Anamosa, Iowa. Paul experienced little difficulty in his position as Editor-in-Chief, since he was Editor of his hometown paper, as well as a Commander of the American Legion and Grand Knight of the local council of the Knights of Columbus, before coming to Creighton. He is also a member of the Union Board of Governors. The business management of the Creightonian was ably taken care of by Raymond McNamara, also a law student.

As is the custom, a new staff, headed by Robert Phipps, took charge of the Creightonian at the mid-year. Phipp's ability is attested by the popularity of the paper, both on the Hilltop and in the professional schools.

Allow us to take this opportunity to express our appreciation to the Creightonian staff for their meritorious work in the past year.

ACTIVITIES

The Creightonian workshop is typical of the office of any metropolitan newspaper. So well organized and systematized is the routine that the paper has been signally honored by the North Central Press Association for its high degree of perfection. Each staff member is assigned to a definite run of news sources, who in turn details the reporters assigned to him to "beats."

Hence, the Creightonian so thoroughly covers the field of student news that it can be truly designated the official organ of the student body.

J. DOUGHERTY

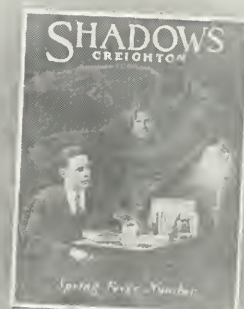

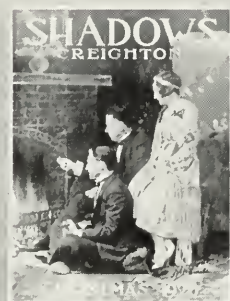

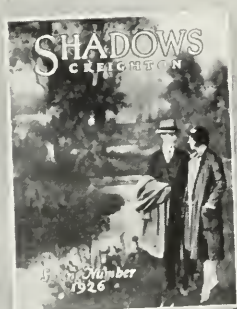

G. KOEHN

F. FERLIC

Our university literary publication, "Shadows," has gained noteworthy recognition, among other successful undertakings of the student body. John Daughtery acted as Editor-in-Chief until the mid-year, when Paul Shaughnessy assumed the position. George Koehn was managing Editor, and Frank Ferlic officiated as Business Manager. All three made a very creditable showing in their respective positions.

"Shadows" appears quarterly and usually contains several short stories, contributed by the English classes of Creighton and Duchesne, as well as articles by members of the faculty. It also features a humorous section, entitled the "Sil-hou-jest," which does not mean that the jokes are shady.

Kaslowsky, Trainor, Havel, Zacharia, Abrahams, Klutznick, Green.

The present season, which has just closed, was probably the most successful ever experienced by a Creighton debating squad. This was, perhaps, due to the large number of veterans at the disposal of Debate Coach Fogarty. There were five full teams of almost equal ability competing to make the trips. As only four of the fifteen will be lost by graduation, we have high hopes of a championship team again next year, with such a nucleus for a brilliant squad. With only eight losses in seven years of collegiate competition, the Creighton Debating record speaks for itself.

FRANK P. FOGARTY

Prof. Frank Fogarty has the enviable record of having maintained the high standard of Creighton debating in his first year as debate instructor. The success of the squad is largely due to his extraordinary powers of analysis and argumentation, which he inculcates into his proteges.

ACTIVITIES

S. NEARY

L. LIPP

G. RICHMOND

Stuart Neary, Gordon Richmond and Louis Lipp formed one of Creighton's invincible teams. Neary and Richmond, who were veterans of last year's squad, were at the height of debating form this season, while Lipp gained an enviable reputation also. This team debated with Loylla, Marquette, and Notre Dame and No-decision debate with the University of Wyoming.

FRANK J. FERLIC

Debate Manager Frank Ferlic performed the arduous duties of arranging the schedules of all of Creighton's debate teams, during the past year.

ACTIVITIES

R. PATTON

M. ABRAHAMS

G. VASAK

These combinations of debaters succeeded in upholding the high standard of Creighton forensics by gaining victories over Washburn College of Topeka, Kansas, Kansas Aggies at Manhattan, Emporia Normal, and Missouri on their southern trip. With such talent available, the national championship is almost assured for Creighton next year. The Championship of the Missouri province of Jesuit Colleges as won by the Creighton Debating squad of this year.

B. KAZLOWSKY

G. VASAK

G. HEADLEY

ACTIVITIES

This group of debaters, ineligible for varsity debating, consoled themselves by taking the local high school teams into camp, and engaging in the intra-mural tournament. Under the tutelage of Coach Fogarty, these men showed great promise, and we expect to hear from next year.

ACTIVITIES

The Creighton University Oratorical Society had one of the most successful seasons during the past year with a membership close to the hundred mark. This organization may be credited with the development of many of our best debaters, as well as the winners of the annual Oratorical Contest. As the name implies, this society trains its members to speak fluently and forcefully before an audience, weekly meetings were held throughout the year.

BENNIE MORGAN

Binnie Morgan capably served as President of the Oratorical Society for the first semester. This honor was accorded to William Dozier the second semester.

ACTIVITIES

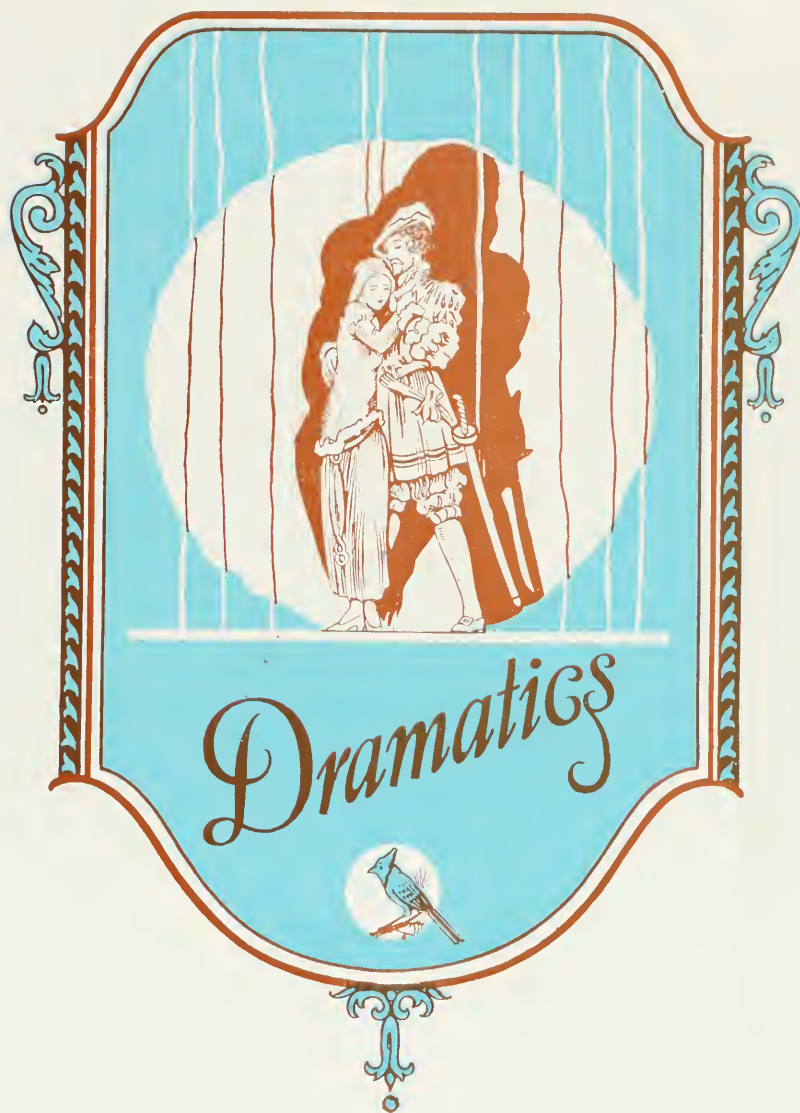

PATRICK HEATON

After a series of elimination contests, the annual Creighton Oratorical Contest was held with James Cash, Henry Ehlers, Lorentz Pettinger, Joseph Kass, William Dozier and Patrick Heaton competing in the finals. First honors were awarded to Patrick Heaton, with Lorentz Pettinger second, and Joseph Kass and James Cash tied for third honors. This is considered one of the highest honors a student can receive, hence, competition is very keen. The winner receives a gold medal offered by the local chapter of the Knights of Columbus.

ACTIVITIES

Back row: Collins, Repelfs, Dozier, Bear, Gadbois, Drysillius, Shaughnessy, Farr.

Bottom row: McCarthy, Juergens, Director Marrow, Pettinger, Dreibus, Gillin.

The Dramatic Club, under the direction of Fred Marrow, proved conclusively that Creighton University students have ability in this art. Several finished productions were presented to the public, all of which received highest praise from local dramatic critics. Francis "Mickey" Maguire and Louise Patton, with a remarkable supporting cast, in the comedy-drama, "The Whole Town's Talking," and James Cash and Helen Wilson in "Ice-bound" brought much comment and admiration to the Creighton University Dramatic Club.

FRED MORROW
Director of Dramatics

The popularity of the present director of the dramatic club is so great among his proteges that we are forced to believe that Fred Marrow is the chief cause for the renewed interest taken in dramatics. We sincerely hope that his services may be had for future Creighton dramatics.

ACTIVITIES

C. GADBOIS

L. PETTINGER

Guy A. Gadbois, after having participated in Creighton dramatics for three years, was given the signal honor of the Presidency for his fourth year. Guy's interpretative ability is remarkable, which he has proven in many difficult roles. We predict that the name of Gadbois will, sooner or later, become familiar with every follower of the foot-lights. He is undoubtedly, the most finished actor of Creighton.

The laborous task of making adequate preparations for plays rested upon the shoulders of Lorentz Pettinger. His shrewd business ability is responsible for the financial success of the club's productions. Pettinger assumed these duties upon the withdrawal of Arthur Mullen, Jr., from school at the end of the first semester.

ACTIVITIES

In the presentation of "Icebound" the Dramatic Club reached the climax of their glory. The difficult and heavy theme of this play was completely over-balanced by the fine portrayal by Miss Helen Wilson, who carried the feminine lead, James Cash, the leading man, and a cast composed of such stars as Helen Jane Foley, Louise Patton, Katherine Shaw, Rose Marie Foley and Dorothy Hussie, all of whom have an enviable reputation in dramatic circles.

In her initial appearance in Creighton dramatics, Helen Wilson made such a "hit" in the comedy-drama "Icebound" that she will always be in demand in the future.

ACTIVITIES

"The Whole Town's Talking," as presented by the dramatic club, lived up to its name "in toto." "Mickey" Maguire and Louise Patton carried the leads with professional skill, and their efforts, coupled with the help and assistance of a supporting cast of veteran players made the production a complete success.

ACTIVITIES

The year 1926-1927 has been a noteworthy one in Creighton musical circles. Especially is this true of the University Glee Club. Those who have had the opportunity to watch the progress of this organization will agree that greater achievement and better work has resulted from the efforts of the Glee Club than in any other year of Creighton history.

HENRY G. COX

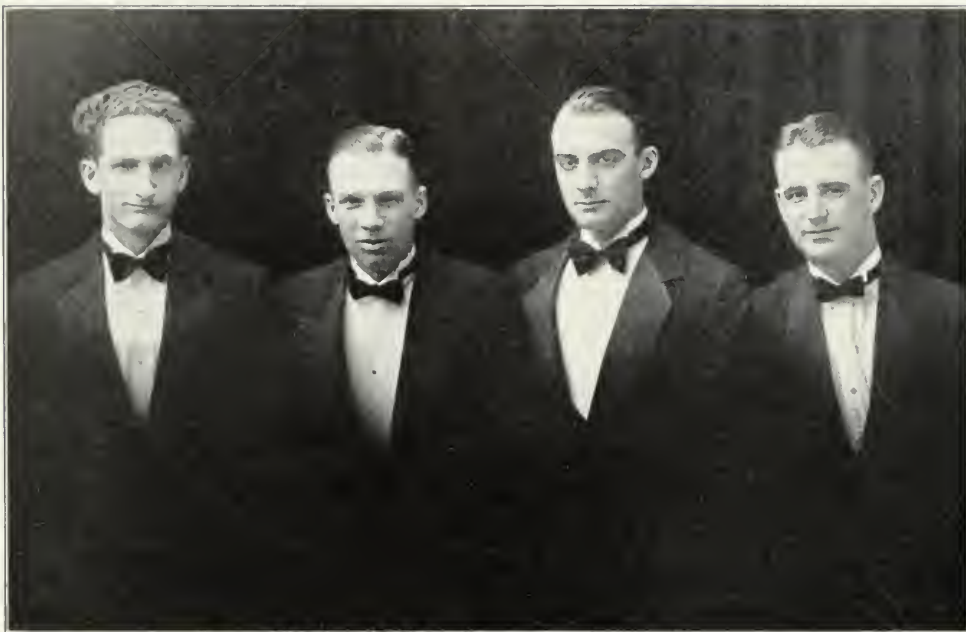

The Glee Club of Creighton University has been fortunate in having the helpful and patient direction of Mr. Henry G. Cox. Mr. Cox has for several years devoted himself to the task of raising musical standards at Creighton. It is only fitting that we pay tribute here to the fine spirit of solicitude and sacrifice in which he has expended these efforts.

ACTIVITIES

The University Orchestra has also shown a decided trend toward the improvement of Creighton on the musical map. Such great interest was shown by the student body that Mr. Cox was able to develop a symphony of no mean ability. Much of the success of this organization may be attributed to Father Alphonse R. Schmidt, S. J., Faculty Director of Music, whose helpful co-operation enabled Mr. Cox to conduct the rehearsal at hours convenient to the members and arrange their schedule of practice accordingly.

ACTIVITIES

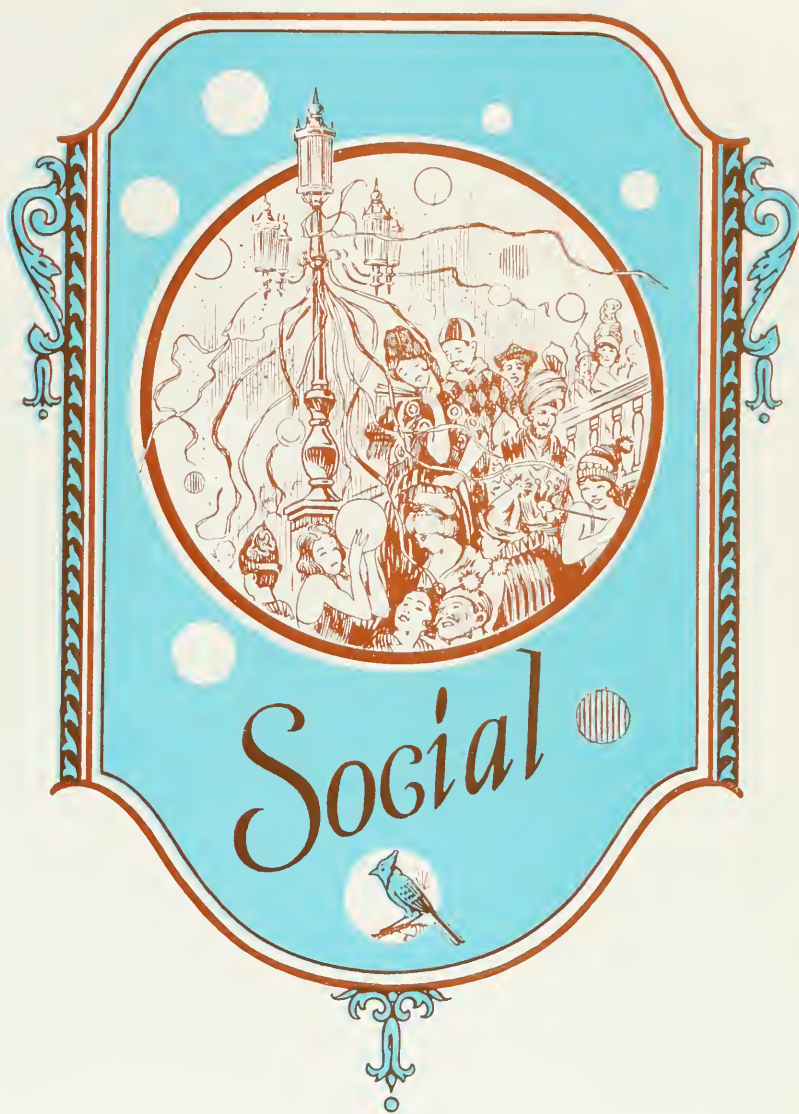

J. O'BRIEN

E. REDELFs

G. GADBOIS

F. McGUIRE

"The Blue Jay Four," as the University Quartette is popularly known, is rapidly becoming one of the features of the Creighton musical department. Their services are demanded at every public occasion in the city, including the weekly luncheons of the various business men's clubs of Omaha. They also appear before the students at assemblies and numerous other student gatherings.

ACTIVITIES

The 1927 Junior-Senior Prom

Newall J. Dougherty, the King of the 1927 Prom, is a senior in Dentistry, and a member of Delta Sigma Delta Fraternity. He is from Hawarden, Iowa.

Buelah Edwards, the Queen of the 1927 Prom is a senior in St. Josephs Hospital Training school for Nurses. She is the president of the Senior Class, Editor of the Mizpah, and representative on the Blue Jay Staff. Miss Edwards comes to Omaha from Winston Salem, North Carolina.

ACTIVITIES

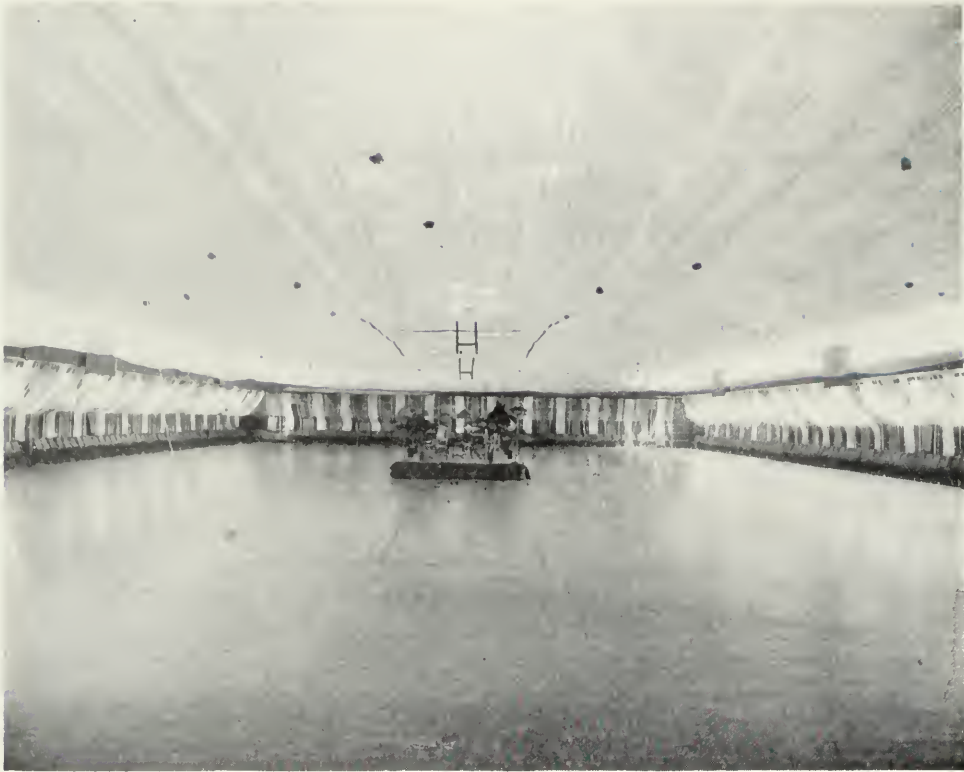

Princes and Princesses

The enchanting atmosphere of Spain, the beautiful strains of Tracy Brown's Oklahomans, and the luxurious coronation ceremony contributed to making the 1927 Junior-Senior Prom the most successful event of its kind in the history of the school. This occasion was the social feature of the opening of the new Granada Ball Room in the new Knights of Columbus Club. A more appropriate and picturesque setting for Creighton's Prom could not have been found.

The coronation services were perfect. The grand promenade headed by the Royal Court opened the Prom and dancing until the wee small hours followed. Beautiful and distinctive favors were given to each dancer which harmonized with the general theme of the setting.

Congratulations are due to Robert McGinnis whose careful and efficient management contributed in a very large measure to the success of Creighton's greatest Junior-Senior Prom.

ACTIVITIES

The Union Dance Season

A general successful season of social events was featured by the dances sponsored by the Students Union. Beginning with the annual Freshman Hop featured by the green capped guests, then the beautiful Thanksgiving Frolic, followed by that roitous carnival of fun, "the Mid-way Shuffle," the glorious Prom, and the Inaugural Ball made a very complete and varied number of dances.

The Students' Union is to be congratulated for their pleasing program, and especially laurels are coming to Bob McGinnis, John O'Donnell, and their helpers. The Union dances are greatly appreciated by the students, and all look forward to them in anticipation of a "real good time."

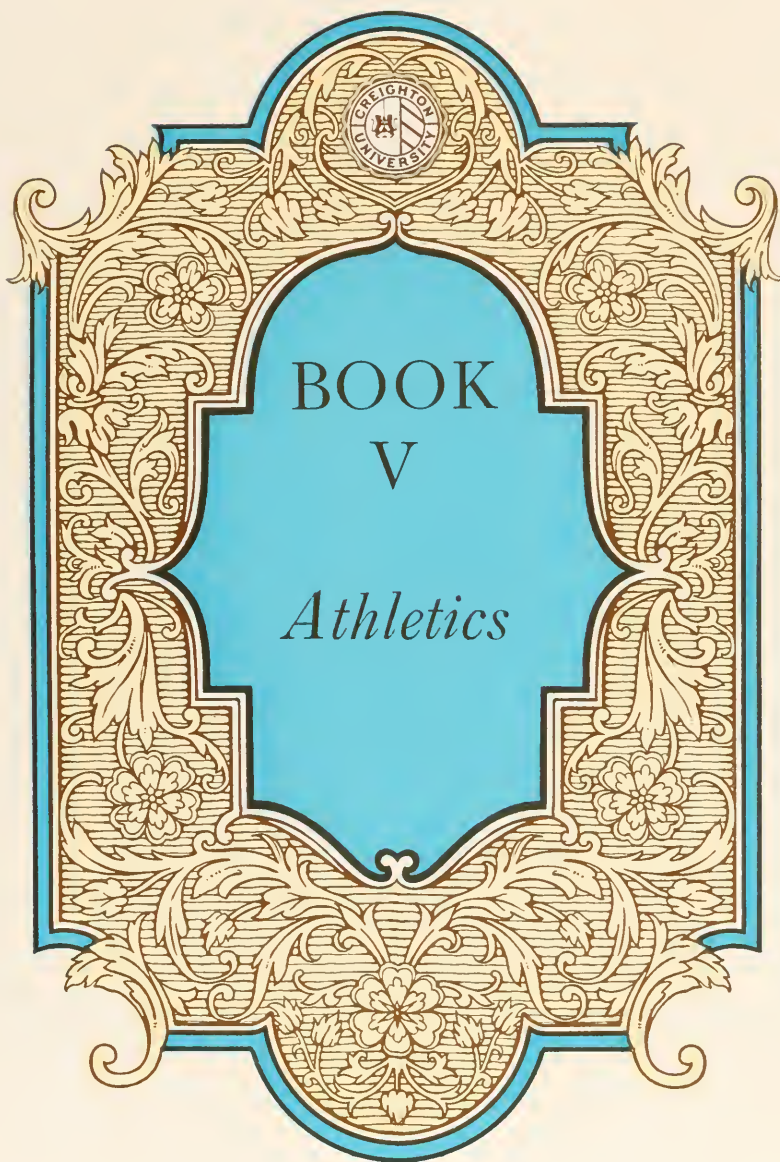

Thanksgiving Frolic

This dance offered everything that could be expected by the students. The beautiful decorations and the soothing music of Randall's Royal made the dance perfect.

The Mid-Way Shuffle with its circus tent atmosphere was a huge success of the season. "Ten thousand miles of serpentine, five tons of confetti, and thousands of squawkers" put it over big.

A renovation of "pep" featured the advent of new cheer leaders and new cheers at all the athletic contests of 1927. Much credit must go to Frank Carroll who, coming from the University of Washington, organized the student cheer body to a very high degree. Louie Kelly and Joe Sauer were valuable assistants and are to be congratulated for their efficiency.

We wish to place them in a hall of fame of their own, and thank them on behalf of the student body for their loyal and unselfish service. We are sure that in the future Creighton pep will never wane, and give a "BIG ABUYAH" for the cheer leaders.

ATHLETICS

ELMER P. LANG, Captain

Middle row: Hinchey, O'Brien, McDonald, Thomey, Tracey, Caniglia, Malliard, Pratt, Captain Lang, Prenevost, Schwertly, Butterfield, Keane

Bottom row: Coach Wynne, Masica, Connolly, Bolton, O. O'Connor, Morley, Lilly, G. O'Connor, Dendinger, McDermott, Sullivan, Herbert, Mork.

Elmer Lang, Captain

Captain Lang playing his first year of Varsity football for Creighton proved himself an able leader and one of the greatest ends ever produced at the Hilltop. He is a sure tackler and a clever receiver of forward passes. His playing ability together with his leadership qualities made him the most valuable man of the squad. His record is an example for future grid artists to follow.

William Dendinger, Captain Elect

In choosing Bill Dendinger to lead the 1927 grid machine the letter men foresaw great possibilities. They chose a man who is a leader among men and a player of grit and determination. Bill has been on the squad for three years and he proved himself to be the scrappiest man on the team. He held a guard position on the Creighton team.

WILIAM DENDINGER

ATHLETICS

JOSEPH BEHA

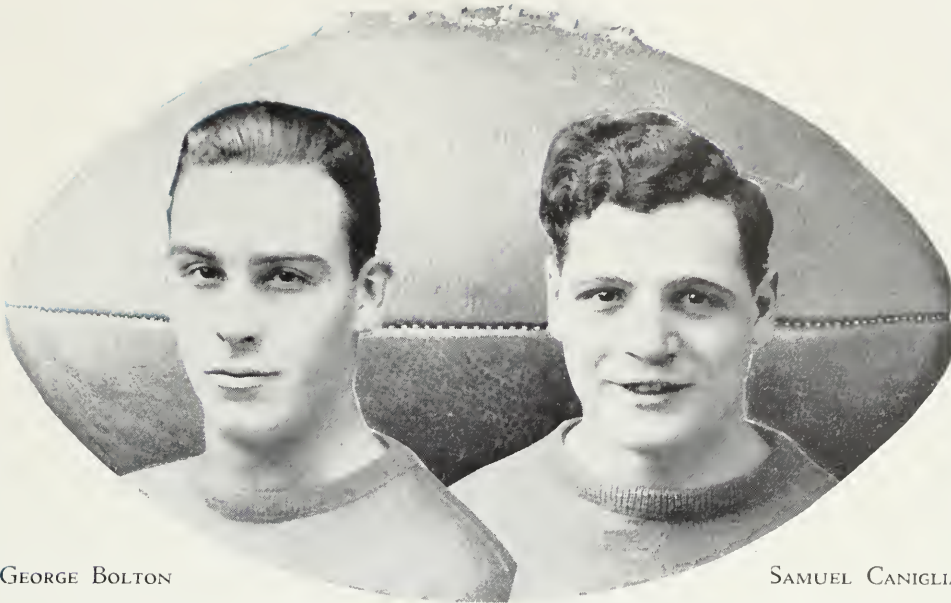

JAMES BERTOGLIO

"Bullet" Joe was a fullback worthy of an all conference birth. He was the most consistent ground gainer of the year and one of Wynne's most dependable men. Joe's best game was against the North Dakota Aggies when he triumphed in a plunging duel with Miller, the Bison Flash.

Playing his first year with the Blue Jays Jimmy showed an excellent brand of football. He was a consistent ground gainer and a vicious tackler. Fans are expecting to see Jimmy equal the record of his famous brother before he finishes his career at Creighton.

ATHLETICS

GEORGE BOLTON

SAMUEL CANIGLIA

As an understudy of Lang, George showed exceptional football ability. He was always ready to enter the game and held up his end like a veteran. Bolton has two years left and should prove an able successor to Captain Lang.

Living up to his prep school record Sam continued to be a menace to all opposing teams. His speed on the line stopped many a play through guard and often around the ends. Sam was out for a time due to a knee injury but managed to play most of the games. There are two more years for Caniglia.

ATHLETICS

JACK CONNELLY

GORDON DIESING

Jack solved Wynne's quarterback problem. Although playing his first year of varsity football he performed like a veteran. His ability to return punts gained many yards for the Blues. Jack has two years more ahead of him and with a year's experience to the good should make a name for himself in the hall of football heroes.

Diesing, playing his second year with the Blue Jays alternated at quarterback with Connelly. Bud was a bear at barking signals and his voice carried the figures of the digits with superb accuracy. Next year should be Gordon's greatest.

ATHLETICS

MARTIN ERICKSON

HARRY DORWART

Harry closed his career in great style. Although handicapped by lack of weight he was probably the best plunger in the backfield. He has played fullback for the past three years and his vacancy will be hard to fill.

"Pork" was one of Wynne's many tackles. Coming from last year's frosh with a respected reputation as a tackle he was out to defend it. His defensive work was outstanding and the state of Oregon should be proud to boast of such a son.

ATHLETICS

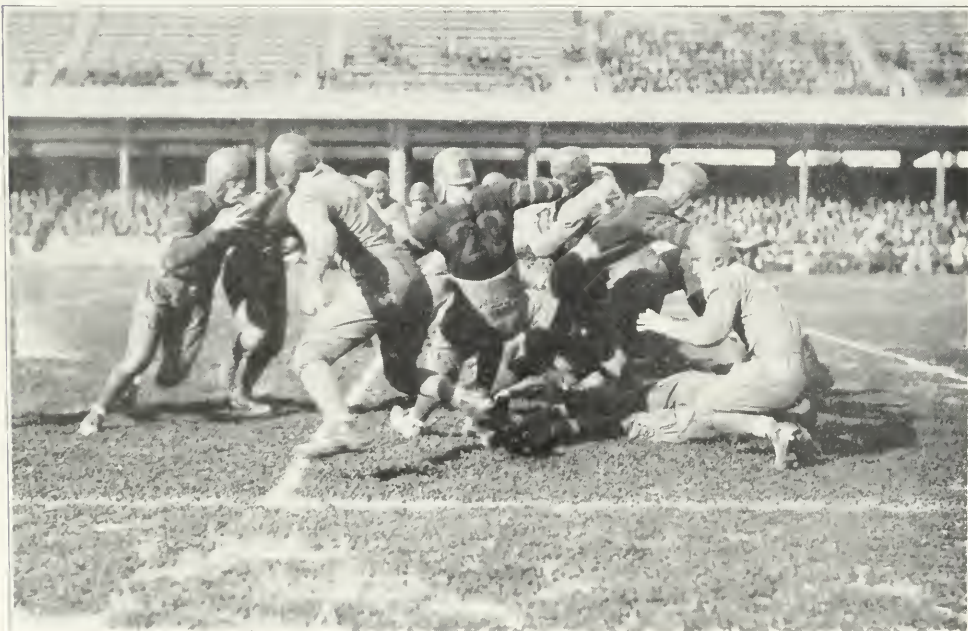

WILLIS HERBERT

SARSFIELD KEANE

Minnesota has sent several athletes to Creighton but none as representative as Willis Herbert. "Mike" ended his three year career in a whirl of glory. As a defensive center he could not be surpassed in the Middle West. His name will linger long on the tongues of the Hilltoppers.

Handicapped throughout the season with a wrenched knee, Keane was unable to show his best form. Nevertheless he tore off good gains in each game, and was a tripple threat of worthy mention. Keane's best game was against St. Regis of Denver, where his speed was largely responsible for victory.

ATHLETICS

WILLIAM LYNCH

HUGH McDONALD

Lynch was handicapped by a knee injury most of the season and for this reason he was unable to portray his best work. However he played in several games and proved a tough customer in stopping plays. Bill should make an "Ed Weir" before his college days are over.

"Tiny," at left guard played in nearly every game of the season. He was one of "Chets" most dependable men and could always be counted on for blocking the gap between center and tackle. He was a hard tackler and a clever artist of the "sock system."

ATHLETICS

EDWARD MCKENNA

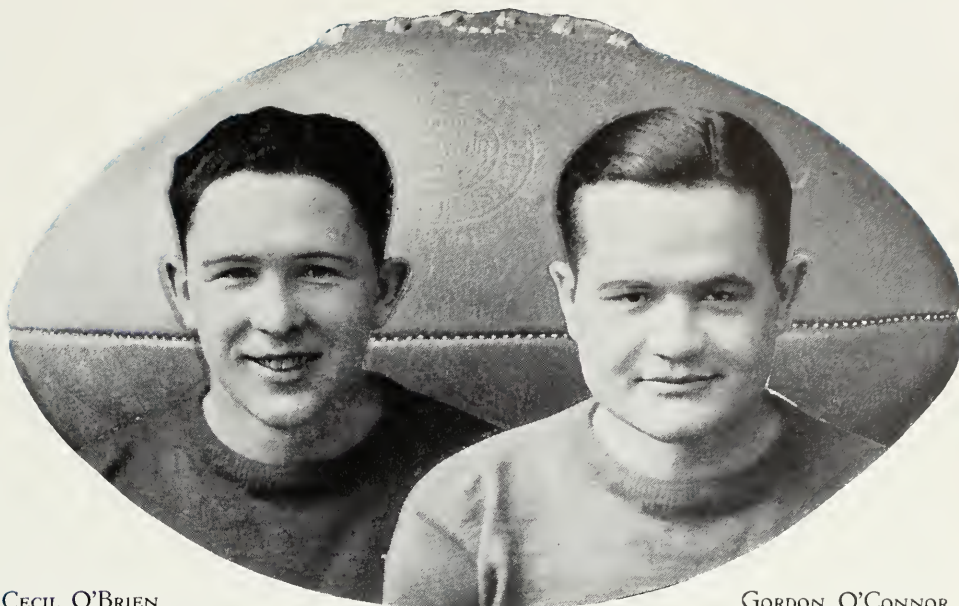

RALPH MAILLIARD

"Big Ed" finished his football career at center. Standing 6 feet 4 inches in the air and weighing over 200 pounds, Ed made an ideal center. His hobby was to break through and tackle the backs on end runs. He was a constant menace to opposing teams by his uncanny ability to diagnose plays.

Ralph answered Wynne's roll call at left tackle and was the most promising line man on the squad. His weight and aggressiveness were dark prospects for our opponents on off tackle plays. This was Ralph's first year and the railbirds are forecasting an all conference berth for next season.

ATHLETICS

CECIL O'BRIEN

GORDON O'CONNOR

Ireland should be proud of this worthy son. Although not a mountain in build he was a tower of strength at right tackle. His unceasing initiative carried Cecil through his second year of football at Creighton. The next year should see O'Brien as the outstanding linesman of the Blue.

Gordon filled the shoes of a worthy successor to the Fitsgibbon. His speed and shiftiness made him a dangerous man and one that was feared by all opponents. He was given honorable mention on the all conference selection.

ATHLETICS

ORVILLE O'CONNOR

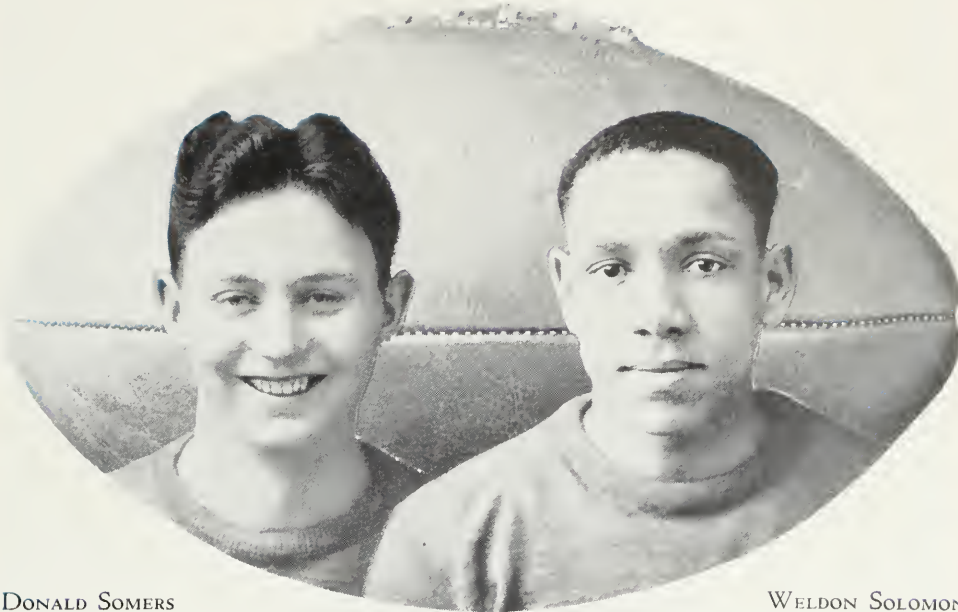

WILLIAM PRATT

"Shoes" was a second year man and a tackle of no mean ability. He was an outstanding defensive player and was instrumental in opening wide holes in the line. "Shoes" will be one of Chets tackles for the 1927 grid machine.

Pratt alternated at the end with Somers and displayed remarkable ability at stopping end runs. He was without a doubt one of the best tacklers on the squad and could always be depended upon to remove his tackle from the fray.

ATHLETICS

DONALD SOMERS

WELDON SOLOMON

Weldon got his chance against South Dakota University and displayed some of the prettiest football seen on the Creighton grid. His sprinting ability reflected in his end runs.

Never since the days of Jimmy Condon and Gene Leahy have Creighton followers seen such a punter as Don Somers. Playing end he was called back to do the punting and responded with boots of 50 to 75 yards. Somers was the best punter in the conference.

ATHLETICS

WILLIAM TRACY

ROBERT WALKER

"Wee Willie" answered Wynne's call at quarterback and performed brilliantly. Handicapped by lack of weight and size he entered the fray with all the grit and determination of a giant. His speed was a potent factor in returning punts and his field generalship was worthy of merit.

Bob Walker was one of the many fighting guards. He possessed weight, size and speed and looms as a sure mate for Captain-elect Dendinger. This was Walker's first year and his development was very rapid. Bob earned his spurs against Idaho.

ATHLETICS

The Football Season of 1927

Although shining brilliantly only in spots, Creightons 1927 grid machine is to be congratulated in securing an even break in a tough schedule, and carrying on despite losses through injuries.

The North Central title was lost only on a bad and unavoidable "break" in the last game in the Conference, and taking all into consideration a successful season resulted.

| Creighton 25 | Regis U. 20 |
| Creighton 8 | South Dakota State 8 |
| Creighton 0 | South Dakota U. 6 |
| Creighton 0 | Idaho U. 12 |

In the all-conference selections Creighton placed Captain Lang and Captain-elect Den dinger on the first team and Somers and G. O'Connor on the second.

ATHLETICS

Creighton 25 Des Moines 2

Bent upon victory in the first conference struggle of the season, Wynne's Blue Jays unleashed an attack upon Des Moines that could not be stopped.

A smashing offense in which long end runs, brilliant off tackle plays, line smashes and an airtight defense featured.

The 1926 Creighton grid machine was functioning to perfection and proved the downfall of the Des Moines University Tigers.

Keane and Bertoglio were the best ground gainers for the Blue while the defensive work of Lang and McDonald was outstanding.

Lynch and Somers made their debut into the ranks of "varsity" against Des Moines and both performed brilliantly.

ATHLETICS

Creighton 26 North Dakota Aggies 13

Too much Beha spelled defeat for the North Dakota Bisons and added another conference victory to Creighton's credit.

Sharing in individual honors with Beha was Captain Miller of the Aggies, who was a constant menace to Creighton throughout the game.

Staging a terrific duel, Miller and Beha time and again carried the ball within scoring distance of their respective goals. Here Beha proved his mettle by plunging over for three touchdowns while Miller was held for downs by Creighton's powerful forward wall.

The game was hotly contested and not until the final whistle had blown was the outcome evident.

Creighton 0 Kansas Aggies 12

A typical Kansas tornado swept over Omaha on the afternoon of October 9th, concentrating its attack upon the Creighton University stadium. Astride that tornado were coach Charlie B. Bachman's Kansas Aggies and when the last vantage of the destroyer had sifted through the big bowl, the Kawmen had swished to a 12 to 0 victory over Coach Chet Wynne's Blue Jays.

The victory was the result of straight, extremely orthodox football directed upon the Blue Jay line. Try as they did, Creighton's forward wall could not ward off the assaults of the Aggie backfield and at the end of the first half Kansas had scored two touchdowns.

ATHLETICS

Creighton, however, outplayed the Aggies during the last half but lacked the necessary punch to score.

Gordon O'Connor was the shining light of the Jay's backfield while "Big Ed" McKenna's defensive play looked best on the line.

The entire Aggie backfield displayed much ability as did Edwards and Tombaugh: at end and guard respectfully.

Creighton 22 John Carroll 12

Playing before a crowd of five thousand fans, Coach Wynne's fighting Blue Jays trounced John Carroll University of Cleveland, Ohio, 22 to 12. The game was very erratic with both sides fumbling considerable. However, the fans were thrilled time and again by the spectacular runs and long forward passes of Bertoglio and G. O'Connor.

Creighton resorted to a punting game and were contented to let the Clevelanders take the offensive. The punting of Somers was the best seen on the Blue Jay field for many a season and from all indications he will be a great asset to Creighton football teams in the future.

John Carroll displayed a fighting line, all of whom were vicious tacklers and sure blockers.

ATHLETICS

Creighton 0 Marquette 21

With ten thousand loyal backers in the stands pulling for victory, the greatest cheering throng ever assembled in the Creighton stadium, and with the brightest assemblage of stars a Blue Jay eleven has ever known, those ten thousand shivering souls witnessed the Golden Avalanche pile up 21 points while Creighton was held scoreless.

Marquette had duplicated the fate that befell them on their Homecoming Day, two years ago, when Creighton's eleven defeated the Golden Avalanche 21 to 7.

In going to defeat, the Blue Jays did so gloriously. Creighton's men fought and fought every inch of the way. They outgained in yardage, outgained in downs, and lost to a team that played clean and hard football, a team that would make a showing against any eleven football players in the country.

To give individual merit would be injustice for there were twenty-two men playing real football and they were the twenty-two stars of the game.

ATHLETICS

Creighton 25 Saint Regis 21

The Blue Jays journeyed to Denver for the only foreign invasion of the year. They played and defeated Regis 25 to 21 before a crowd of ten thousand spectators.

Despite the fact that the Blues were playing in an altitude much higher than Omaha they succeeded in going over for four touchdowns chiefly by the long end runs of Sas Keane and the tackle thrusts of G. O'Connor. Keane on one occasion stepped out on a jaunt of 90 yards for a touchdown.

Creighton 8 S. D. State 8

Playing in a sea of mud and rain State and Creighton battled four quarters on even terms. Both teams resorted almost entirely to punting altho State sent Kelly around ends for several gains. Fumbles were numerous and Somers scored a touchdown late in the first quarter in Kelly's muff.

Somers again scored a safety at the opening of the second half giving an 8-0 lead to the Blue Jays. State, employing a strong attack around Kelly, soon had Creighton deep in her own territory and scored a touchdown on a blocked punt. Two minutes before the final gun Beha was downed behind his own goal line for a safety to tie the score. Both teams played well although handicapped by the quagmire and seemed satisfied with a tie score.

ATHLETICS

Creighton 0 S. D. University 6

Creighton played and lost the final conference game of the season and with it a tie for the Conference title. South Dakota presented a well coached and scrappy eleven that was well able to take advantage of the breaks.

The only score was the result of a fumble by O'Connor recovered by Harney of the U. who sped over the line for a touchdown. The feature of the game was the line play of Creighton in the first quarter. With but one yard to go and four downs to make it in the Blue forwards stiffened a held then allowed Somers to punt seventy yards to safety.

Solomon for Creighton and Clancy for the University were the individual stars.

Creighton 0 Idaho 12

Coming to Omaha slated as one of the best on the coast, Idaho obtained sweet revenge for last year's defeat at the hands of the Blue Jays.

Hardly had the echo of the starting whistle died away when Jacoby, Idaho quarter, ran thirty yards for the first touchdown. The second score came as a result of straight football, Jacoby again carrying the ball over. For the remainder of the game the teams battled on even terms with Creighton trying desperately to score.

Jacoby, quarter, and Bliss, center, were the best bets for Idaho. O'Connor in the back-field and Malliard on the line looked best for Creighton.

ATHLETICS

The Freshman football team under the direction of Coach D. Joe Speicher, a former and famous halfback of Creighton teams, showed the rail birds and everyone else that they could all be counted on in next year's varsity competition. Especially pleasing was the work of Scott, quarter, Hunt halfback, and Captain Dunn the husky center.

The Fresh afforded the varsity some real competition in scrimmage and sometimes made them very uncomfortable by their open attack plays.

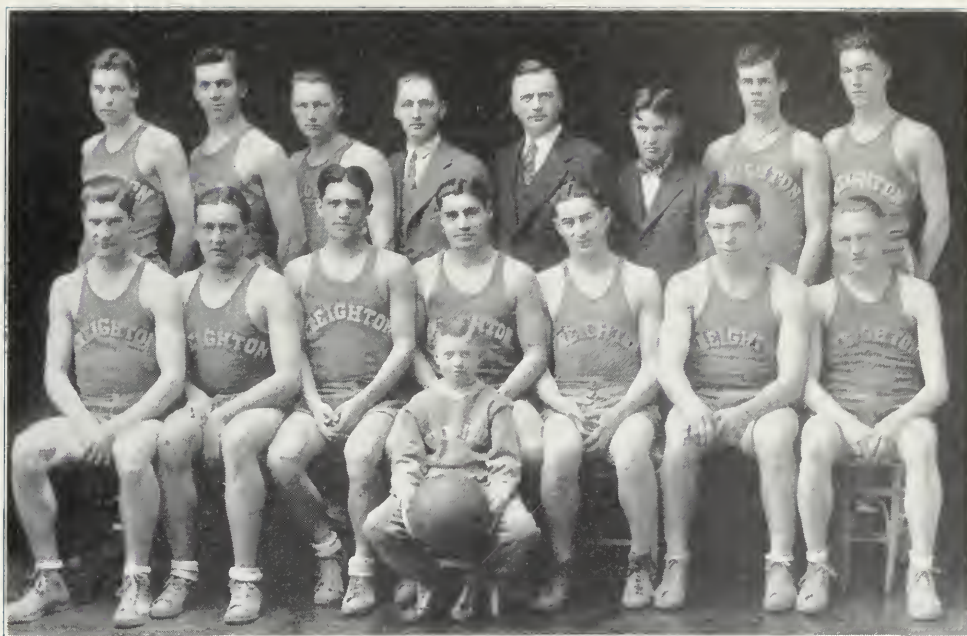

ATHLETICS

Captain ALBERT N. BROWN

ATHLETICS

Back row: Fogarty, Kampf, H. Trautman, J. Trautman, Asst. Coach, Coach Schabinger, Manager Belford, Deising, Devine.

Front row: Beha, Ryan, Correnman, Mascot J. J. Schabinger, Captain Brown, Connolly, McDonnell, L. Trautman.

Captain Brown, playing his third year for the Blue Jays, was a consistent scorer and a scrappy forward. "Schabbie" found Brown to be a "terrific punch" when inserted during a hot contest and could depend on him to bring his team to the fore. Brownie was a part of the impetus that gave Creighton her fourth North Central championship. For his all-around play Brown was awarded a forward position on the all-conference five.

ATHLETICS

Captain-elect JOSEPH BEHA

"Horse" Beha was the logical choice to Captain the 1928 court machine, and there is promise that it will be the Blues greatest season. Beha's most brilliant performances were against the North Dakota teams. Sport critics there acclaimed him to be the greatest guard they had seen. Beha received a berth on the second all-conference team.

SIDNEY CORRENMAN

"Sid" was a peer among peers, and as a basketball guard he was second to none. Sid playing guard was second only to the brilliant Trautman in total scoring. Correnman was an unanimous choice for the all-conference selection and was undoubtedly the most colorful player in the country.

ATHLETICS

JACK CONNOLLY

GORDON DEISING

Jack graduated from Coach Trautmans frosh last year and succeeded in landing a regular berth on Schabbies quintet. As a frosh Jack played guard but showing great possibilities caused Schabbie to move him forward. Connolly was probably the biggest find of the year leading the scoring in several games. Jack received honorable mention for all-conference.

Gordon was shifted to forward this year from his old position as pivot man and proceeded to be an important cog in the scoring machine. Owing to a mid-season illness Bud did not get in all the games. Deising lead the scoring in two North Central games at the expense of S. D. State and Des Moines.

ATHLETICS

HUGH FOGARTY

FRED KAMPF

One of the best floor men that ever put his foot inside a basketball shoe, can be said of Hugh Fogarty. His all-round team work and ability to handle the ball with such accuracy enabled the Hilltoppers to win many victories. Hugh's work in the Grinnell and Morningside games was excellent. His passing was perfect and played with the prowess of a Mahoney or a Lovley.

From his frosh days Kampf showed promise of developing into an aggressive and heady forward. This was proven true as the '27 season progressed. He fitted in well with all combinations and beside his aggressive play was especially effective under the basket on follow-ups.

ATHLETICS

HARRY TRAUTMAN

Harry needs no introduction. When things were going bad for the team it was generally "Zero" who stepped into the breach and started a peppery fight and a barrage of shots that ultimately brought results. Fans and Coach Schabinger expect Harry to fill Correnmans shoes next year. Harry and Joe should form an impenetrable defense.

LOUIS TRAUTMAN

"Watch Trautman" was the universal cry from every opponent that the Blues faced this year. The versatile center was held as the most dangerous man on the team in every game. Despite heavy guarding, he avoided the most brilliant efforts and never failed to score heavily. Louie was the high point man of the season and merited a second all-conference berth.

ATHLETICS

The 1927 Basketball Season

Fourteen victories out of nineteen starts was the record piled up by the 1927 cage squad. Wins over such teams as Grinnell, Missouri, Iowa State, Kansas Aggies, Drake, North Dakota, Marquette and seven other conference schools, carried the Blue Jays to their fourth North Central championship. By defeating five out of six Missouri Valley schools, Creighton established themselves as one of the outstanding quintets of the country.

An era of popularization was the main feature of the 1926-27 season. Each game brought out a capacity crowd, and not only did the Blue Jays engage the attention of the school, but also of Omaha and the Middle West. There were two factors that served to stimulate interest in the Blues. The first was the brilliant team that Coach Schabinger had assembled, and the second was the attractive schedule, by far the best it has ever been.

Creighton opened the season December 18 on their home court with a 35-31 win over Grinnell. The Pioneers lead nearly the entire game, but a few thrilling baskets by Captain Brown and Fogarty put the game on ice.

ATHLETICS

A Kansas U. Tornado swept aside the Blue Horde and squeezed out a 31-29 victory. This game with the Missouri Valley champion Jayhawkers was the hardest fought of the season. Following this came the Kansas Aggies, who attempted to duplicate their sister school's victory. Creighton, however, was well prepared, and defeated the Aggies in an overtime period.

Our first conference game found the "boys in blue" in a basket shooting contest. South Dakota State was spanked to the tune of 67-16. A two-day trip showed Des Moines U. falling in line by a score of 37-16. Marquette proved to be tough and sent the Blue Jays home on the short end of a 31-22 score.

The loss to Marquette was followed by a ten game winning streak. The Drake Bulldogs were the first victims, 36-32. Morningside was soundly trounced 41-19. Iowa State forced the Blue Jays to extend themselves to win 25-21. The North Dakota Bisons forced the fight all the way by holding the ball but were defeated 23-20. A short trip to South Dakota State marked the fifth consecutive victory 30-18. Creighton gained revenge by mauling Marquette 39-23. North Dakota U. fell by the way in a very spirited tussle 24-22. Missouri was the fifth Missouri Valley team to be trampled by the Blues. The score was 37-30.

ATHLETICS

In a final dash for conference honors, Coach Schabinger led his troops to the north. North Dakota U. and the North Dakota Aggies were battered down in terrific battles, 31-27 and 25-21. On the return from the northern invasion the Blue Jays were ambushed at Sioux City and in one of the biggest upsets of the season Morningside pulled away with a 43-30 victory.

The final two games were with Notre Dame U, one of the leading teams of the country. Coming to Creighton with a record of only two losses in forty-nine starts they defeated the Blues handily 32-20 and 31-17. So ended the season.

The combination which Schabinger welded together could not help but make an enviable record for itself. Captain Al Brown and Jack Connolly at forwards are cagers of the first degree, while L. Trautman at center, and Correnman and Beha at guard can be placed in a similar category for their positions. Much of the team's success during the hard weeks of play was due to the valuable and very capable string of substitutes.

ATHLETICS

Back row: Page, Dugan, Vardon, Binder, Groat, Coach J. Trautman.

Middle row: Hunt, Strawecker, Scott, Capt. Corcoran, Jipp, Halpine.

Freshman Basketball

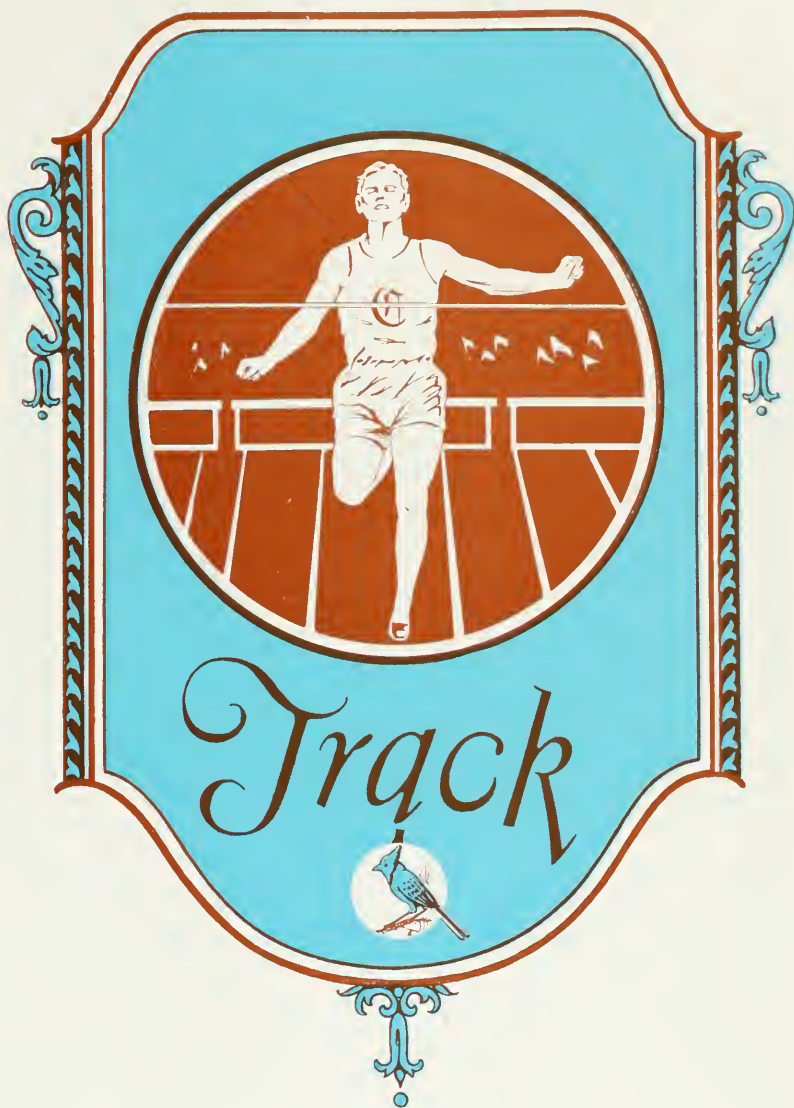

A wealth of promising material was presented to Coach John Trautman in this year's Freshman squad. Several all-state and all-national players are numbered among the group making prospects very bright for next year. A group from the first string succeeded in winning the State Open Championship tournament at the Y. M. C. A.

ATHLETICS

The Usherettes

The usherettes, a charming feature of the Basketball games, contribute their services to assist in handling the large crowds at the contests. Their pleasant and courteous service contributed to the general feeling of good will evinced throughout the basketball season.

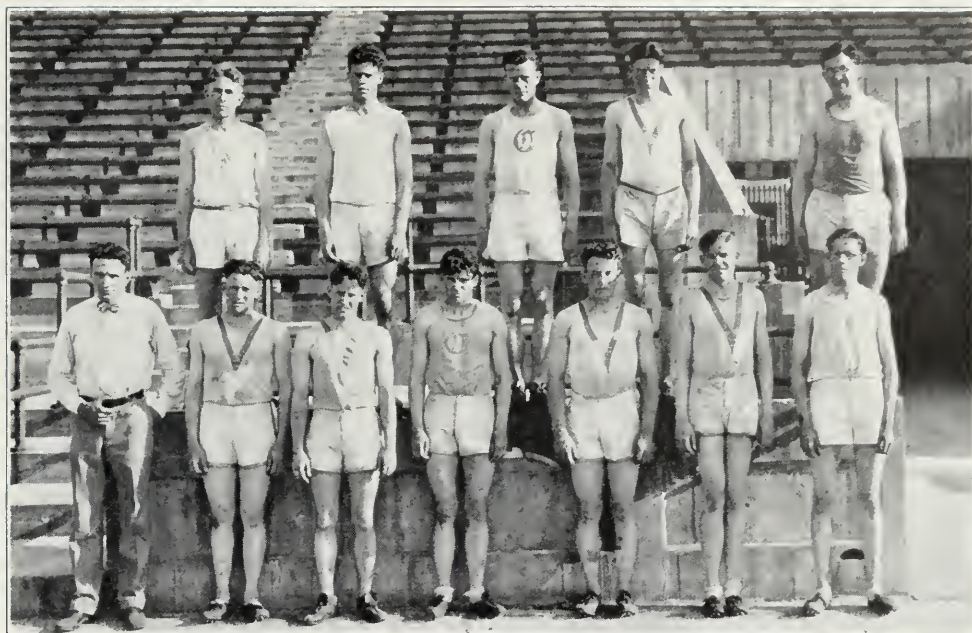

ATHLETICS

CAPTAIN SARSFIELD P. KEANE

ATHLETICS

Top row: Vance, Deising, Burbidge, Fogarty, Krasne.

Bottom row: Coach Wynne, Butterfield, Schmidt, Captain Keane, O'Connor, Boyer, Rossbach.

The Varsity Track Squaa

Creighton's track achievements of 1926, although not brilliant, were considered very good, realizing the dirth of candidates for the team. A small squad working under this handicap almost turned in the North Central championship in their determined efforts.

Each individual of the squad is to be congratulated for his work and training and it is the hope that in the future mere lack of material will not handicap Creighton in track circles as it did this season.

The bright light of the season was Captain Keane's performance in every meet that he entered. There is no doubt but that his name should be among the West's great dash men and hurdlers.

ATHLETICS

Captain-elect "Sas" KEANE

To "Sase's" wonderful abilities is due the showing of the team this season. The winning of firsts in both dashes, the broad jump, and the low hurdles gave Creighton second place in the Conference meet. At the Kansas Relays he ran second to Locke in world's record time in the century, and established a record of 9.9 in the same race at the Dakota Relays. Sas is expected to again contribute his four firsts to aid in winning the conference title this year.

JOHN BOYER

Boyer proved to be the team's best bet in the middle distance runs. His long stride and quick start made him a valuable man and a sure point scorer in all meets. John placed second in the half in both the State dual and Conference meet. He will be lost to the squad for the 1927 season, but will always be remembered for his gritty and enduring running.

ATHLETICS

HUGH FOGARTY

Fogarty does not confine his efforts to the hardwood court but also "does his stuff" on the cinders. Hugh ran both the half and quarter mile, making points in both events at the Sioux City meet, and winning a first in the quarter at South Dakota. Although inexperienced, he ran very well and is expected to cop first honors in the half this season.

MARCUS KRASNE

Krasne did not seem to confine himself to weight events, also entering the dashes and hurdles. His best efforts and results were evinced with the shot and discus. Although he did not place in the conference meet, as before, he was considered one of the best weight men in the circuit. Krasne holds the University record in the shot put, having heaved the iron pellet 41 ft., 9.5 in., in an inter-mural affair.

ATHLETICS

ORVILLE O'CONNOR

"Shoes" was the team's most dependable man in the weight events. In his second year of competition he showed that he "knew his discus." Shoes placed second in the State dual and fourth in the Conference in the platter event. He will be with the team again this year and with his help we are sure that the field events will be well taken care of in all meets.

ALBERT ROSSBACH

"Al," the team's only hope in the high jump, although inexperienced, showed great possibilities for the future. He cleared the stick consistently around five ten and five eleven mark, winning a first in the South Dakota dual. Al did not get in on the conference meet due to a miss in train schedules, but promises to be there this year.

ATHLETICS

WENDEL SCHMIDT

The distance runs were well taken care of by Schmitt in all the cinder tangles. He won first in the two mile at the conference meet and at State and also placed in the mile. Schmidt also represented Creighton in the cross country runs, taking two seconds. The school record in the two mile is his in virtue of a 10:17 performance at Sioux City.

CHARLES VANCE

Vance was the only three year veteran in the longer distances. He was a sure point winner placing third and fourth in the conference two mile and mile runs. Charley will be lost to the team this year but his "always trying attitude will remain."

ATHLETICS

Track 1926

The track season of 1926 was a somewhat mediocre outside of the achievements of Captain Sas Keane.

Due to lack of training facilities in the other conference schools the annual indoor meet in the Creighton gym was abandoned. Creighton had won this for two years.

The Kansas relays were the first attraction of the outdoor season. Keane, after winning his heat, ran second to Gip Locke in the hundred which went in 9.6 seconds, and also tied for fourth in the broad jump. The mile relay team composed of Schuler, Boyer, Schmidt and Keane, failed to place.

The famous Drake Relays found Sas again entered in the century. He won his heat but failed to place in the finals after drawing a poor lane on a rain covered track.

At the Dakota Relays in Sioux Falls, Keane showed the natives that he was a wonderful sprinter when he reeled off the hundred yard dash in 9.9, a relay record. Not content with this Sas won the other special event when he broad jumped 21 feet, 8 inches.

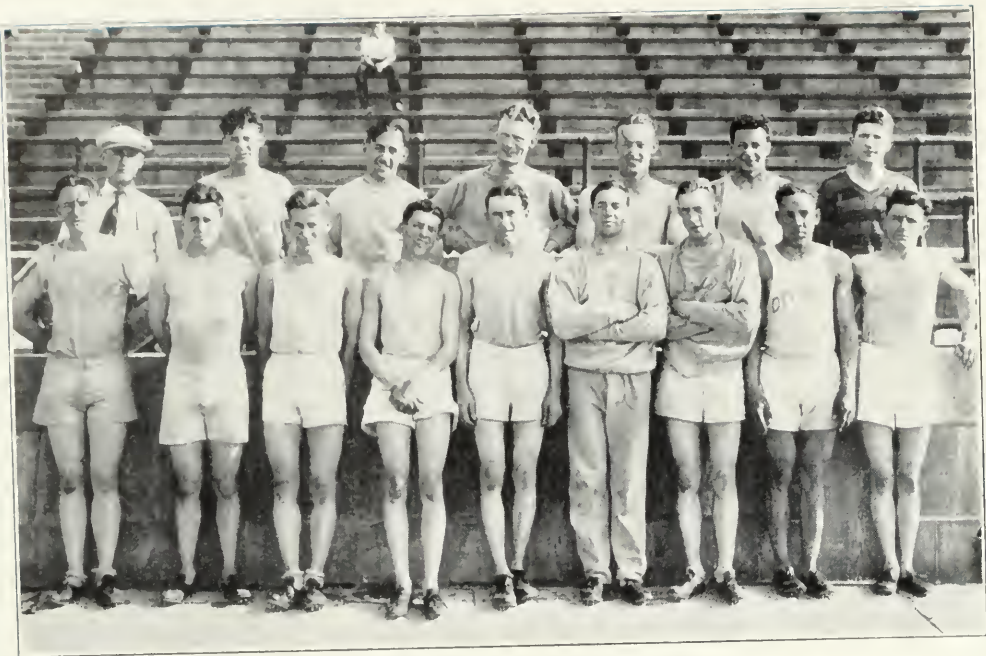

ATHLETICS

The annual dual meet with South Dakota State College at Brookings was lost after a hard struggle in a driving rain storm. Although Creighton won a majority of firsts State filled in enough to win by the score of 57* to 49*. Keane won firsts in the hundred, twenty, broad jump and low hurdles. The other firsts were won by Schmidt in the two mile, Fogarty in the quarter, Rossbach in the high jump, and Krasne in the shot put. Boyer placed second in the half mile and O'Connor second in the javelin.

The conference meet at Sioux City closed the season. Creighton, who was barely nosed out the year before, made another strong bid for the title. By virtue of Keane's four firsts in the dashes, low hurdles, and record-breaking broad jump, and Schmidt's first in the two mile run, the Blues threw a scare into the camp of the champion Coyotes and would have won with a sufficient number of seconds and thirds. The Freshman relay team was the bright light as far as Creighton was concerned winning both the half and mile Freshman relay. This team was composed of Flint, Reed, Solomon, and Becker and gave hopes that in the future the Blue Jay's stock of dash men will never wane. The time in the half mile relay was 1 min., 31 sec.; in the mile relay it was 3 min.

ATHLETICS

Freshman Track Team

 Front row: H. Trautman, Fisch, Kass, Reed, Gartland, Becker, Capt. Flint, Solomon, Snell.

The Freshman track team, under the tutelage of Johnny Trautman, established enviable records on the cinder paths last year. In the telegraphic meet with the other North Central teams they were easily the winners. The relay team, composed of Flint, Reed, Solomon, and Becker represented Creighton at the Conference Meet and won the half and mile relays in record time.

MINOR SPORTS

JOHN A. TRAUTMAN

ROBERT MCGINNIS

The popularity and remarkable success of all Intra-Mural activities was due, in a large part, to the capabilities of Coach John Trautman, and Student Manager Bob McGinnis. Under their careful guidance tournaments and meets were promoted and carried out in all branches of sports.

A general feeling of harmless, though very intense rivalry, was worked up between the classes and schools and aided the success of the ventures. Great thanks are due to these two men who devoted much of their time in organizing and directing the students in these enjoyable activities.

MINOR SPORTS

Junior Arts Basketball Team

University Champions

Back row: H. Wales, L. Tobin, O. Hermesen.

Front row: A. Rossbach, J. Danley, Capt. J. Hart, W. Keenan.

The most popular intra-mural sport proved to be Basketball, which was entered by every class in the University. The teams were divided into two leagues, one representing class teams from Arts, Law, and Commerce, and the other having teams from Dentistry, Medicine and Pharmacy. League A was won by the clever Junior Arts team with the Freshman Law as runners up in the play. League B was conquered by the Junior Dents and Freshman Pharmacy took second place. In the playoff the Arts team were easily the winners, taking the Dents in to the tune of 35 to 13.

ALL INTRA-MURAL TEAM

Hart, Junior Arts, Forward

Hoffman, Junior Dents, Forward.

Haykin, Freshman Law, Forward.

Rossbach, Junior Arts, Center.

Keane, Junior Dents, Center.

Keenan, Junior Arts, Guard.

Miller, Freshman Arts, Guard.

Gilley, Freshman Pharmacy, Guard.

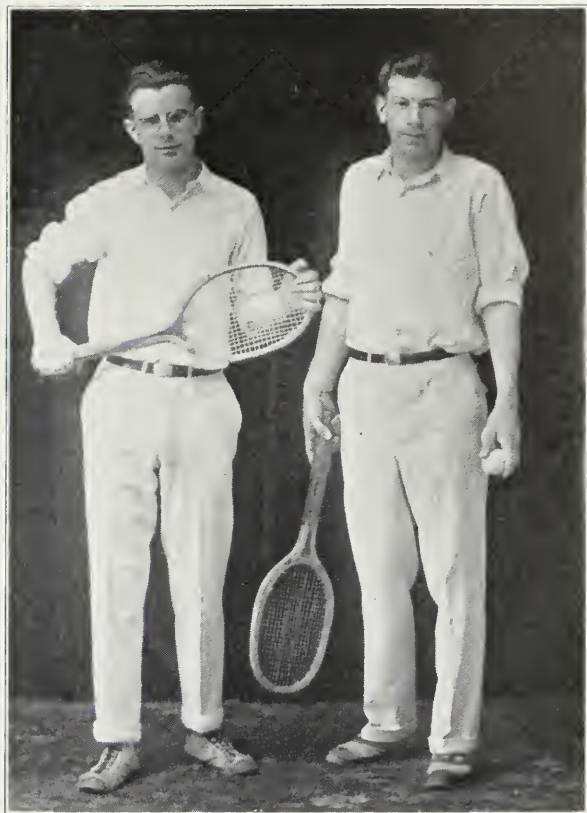

MINOR SPORTS

J. Groat, A. Lowell, D. Lowell, G. Hinchey.

For the second time in two years the aquatic stars from the Arts College won the University title. Copping firsts in nearly all events, they claimed superiority over all other splashers. The Lowell brothers, Groat and Hinchey, are well known to be very proficient swimmers. A. Lowell holds the Mid-west A. A. U. and the State titles in the backstroke.

MINOR SPORTS

F. GABEL J. McGRATH

University Doubles Champion

Displaying the same brilliant brand of tennis that made them champions in 1925, Gabel and McGrath pulled through to their second win by defeating C. Ebner and T. Cowan, 8-6, 3-6, 4-6, 6-2, 9-7.

In the singles James Fitzgerald, after a hard fought battle, won the title from McGrath, 6-8, 9-7, 6-1, 0-6, 6-2. The tournament was the largest held on the hilltop with eighteen entries in the singles and eight teams in the doubles.

MINOR SPORTS

The Junior Law TeamFive Man Event Champions

Vlach, Heaton, Winkelman, O'Connor, Lang.

The annual bowling tournament, filled with intense rivalry and keen competition, showed to a great degree the success and popularity of intra-mural sports.

The team event was won by the Junior Law who scattered the maples for a total of 2,380 pins. The Senior Law team, last year's champs, were runners up to their fellow bar-risters.

Dick Winkelman, of the Junior Law class, won the all-events championship by averaging a score of 175 in the team play, doubles, and singles. Winkelman obtained permanent possession of the silver loving cup offered by the Students Union each year to the all-events champion.

MINOR SPORTS

AL EGAN

WALLY KEENAN

University Doubles Champions

The doubles championship, with the largest entry of the tournament, was won by Keenan, Junior Arts, and Egan, Sophomore Arts. This pair toppled the pins for a total of 1,041 to win easily. Second place went to Keane and Griffin of the Junior Dents.

The singles championship went to J. Griffin with a total of 543 pins. Second place was won by Don Murphy of the Senior Law.

MINOR SPORTS

One of the big surprises of the 1926 spring tournaments was the defeat of Palmer, three times champion, by R. Chalfont, in the semi-final round of the golf tournament. Chalfont won the Championship when he defeated J. Green in the finals, 11 up and 9 to go on 27 holes.

The first annual pool tournament under the auspices of the Students' Union was won by Earl Sauser, Junior Law student.

Twenty-six entries were in the play and Sauser and Winkelman, also a Junior Law, met in the finals.

Harry Wales, Junior Arts, won the silver loving cup offered by the Union to the winner of the fourth chess tournament. Wales defeated Paul Murphy 3-0 in the final round.

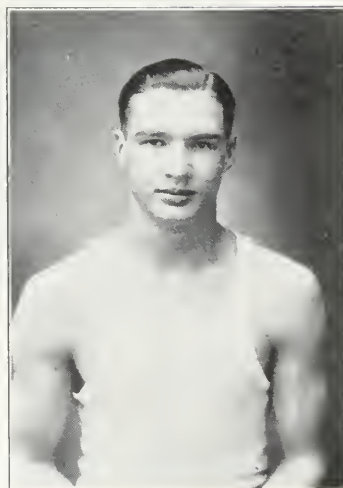

MINOR SPORTS

Gardiner Brothers

The handball tournament was all Gardiner for the second successive year. In the doubles the Gardiner brothers defeated Fitzgerald and Butterfield in the finals. The singles title went to Joe Gardiner when Hugh Fogarty fell before him in the final round.

MAJOR H. S. RUSH, D. C. (D. O. L.), U. S. A.

Under Major Rushes' very able and efficient direction the Dental Units have always made enviable records. This is his last year with Creighton and we wish him good luck and success in his future work.

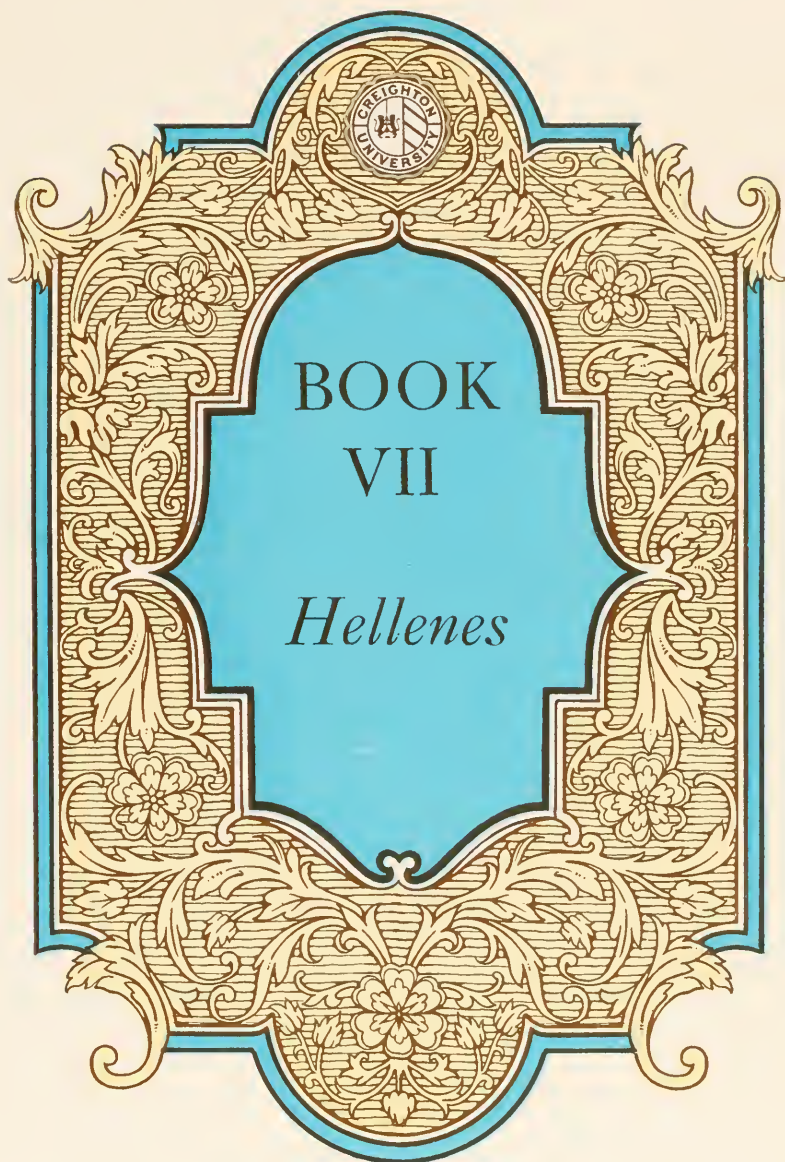

MILITARY

The Dental R. O. T. C. Unit

The Dental Unit, one of the best in the Seventh Corps Area, has repeatedly proven the fact at the summer training camps at Fort Snelling, Minnesota. Under the capable and efficient direction of Major Rush they have copped firsts in Unit efficiency, in Medical Tactics, and in athletic events.

This year a chapter of the national fraternity, the Scabbard and Blade, was organized and promises to enjoy a rapid growth. Al Brown, senior class student and 1927 Basketball captain, was elected the first president.

The Order of the Gold Caldron

The school year of 1926-1927 witnessed, among other note-worthy achievements at Creighton, the steady growth of the Order of the Gold Caldron. This society, which was inaugurated at Creighton by the graduating Arts class of '26 under the direction of Albert Van Hee and David Cavanaugh, was founded in answer to a demand for a national organization of the graduates of Jesuit colleges and universities of America into a union of good-fellowship, an alliance intended to strengthen the bonds of friendship which should exist between the alumni of the time-renowned Jesuit system of education reaching from coast to coast.

With these aims in view the founders extended an invitation to the men about to leave the other Jesuit schools throughout the country asking them to aid in the initiation and perpetuation of the Order. This met with an immediate response, and so rapidly did the idea take root that there are now seven well established chapters in Jesuit institutions in widely separated sections of the country. At present, several other prominent Jesuit schools are investigating their qualifications for entrance. Hence, if the growth of the Order in the past is any indication of what can be expected in the future, it may safely be predicted that the Order of the Gold Caldron will eventually become a vital factor in every Jesuit college and university in America and a fruitful benefit to the institutions themselves as well as the individuals.

The National Office of the Order of the Gold Caldron is at Creighton University, and is under the direction of John Gillin and Lorentz Pettinger, Senior and Junior member, respectively, of the National Board of Administration.

The "C" Club

The C Club is an organization composed of men who have won a letter on the athletic teams of Creighton University. It was started three years ago and is at present the leading organization of the Athletic Department. The purposes of the club is to promote a feeling of fellowship among the wearers of the "C" on the campus of Creighton. The C Club has sponsored several dances and among these are the Hard Times Party. This was undoubtedly the most successful dance held on the Creighton Campus.

CLUBS

The German Club

The German Club was organized under the direction of Professor Klammer. To create interest in the study of German, regular meetings and smokers were held, and programs were given of varied nature in German. In the regular Cosmopolitan Program a German play was rendered by the members of the Club. The German Club was the chief sponsor of the Cosmopolitan Ball which was held at the Madrid. The Cosmopolitan Ball was one of the largest social functions on the Campus last year.

CLUBS

The "2710" Club

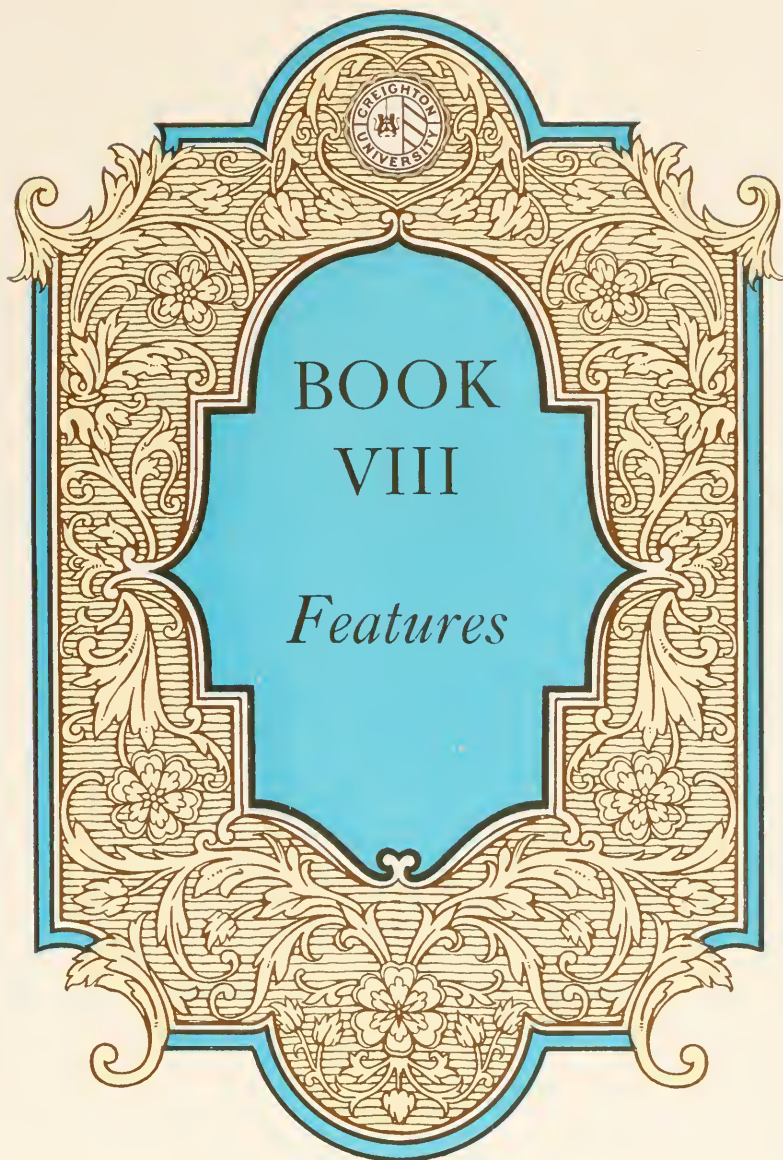

The "2710" Club is an organization of Campus Leaders and among the leaders of the Club will be found many students who are the leaders of their class and organizations. The Club also boasts of many athletes in their number.

The Club is deeply indebted to Miss Anna Donahue for the excellent cuisine and home-like atmosphere of the Club House. The House is located at 2710 California Street and has become famous as the rendezvous of Creighton scholars, athletes, debators, and editors; or what have you.

CLUBS

The "Roaring Seventy"

The Roaring Seventy was organized under the direction of Frank Pepper Carroll, for the purpose of having organized cheering at the Athletic Events that are staged on the Hilltop. They were first tried out at the basketball games last winter and proved to be such a success that they are to be a permanent feature in the future. The Roaring Seventy had a reserved section at the basketball games and under the leadership of Carroll proved that combined cheering will turn the tide of victory.

—with a background of Victor experience and General Electric Company's research facilities

THE Coolidge X-Ray Tube, which has revolutionized the art of radiography, was developed in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company. In collaboration with these same laboratories, the Victor "CDX" Dental X-Ray Unit was evolved, when Victor X-Ray Corporation's Engineering Department, with its background of experience in the design of X-Ray apparatus, worked with the physicists of these laboratories, to the end that the mechanical and electrical design of the X-Ray unit would answer the critical requirements of the Coolidge tube itself. Thus has emanated a perfectly balanced equipment.

Inasmuch as the "CDX" Dental X-Ray Unit is sponsored by the same research facilities as all other notable "G. E." developments, and the Victor X-Ray Corporation is the subsidiary that extends a tangible service to the dental and medical professions in their X-Ray and Electro-Medical requirements, what better safeguard could be offered on your investment in dental X-Ray equipment?

Becktold Covers

The beautiful cover on this annual is a Becktold. Because it is a Becktold it will prove durable and lasting . . . a compliment to the wisdom and farsightedness of the staff in charge.

Becktold never fails to lend an atmosphere of true quality. The handsome grain, originality of design, deep embossing and artistic blending of colors have made this cover preferred. On these qualities the Becktold has built its reputation for complete satisfaction.
